(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) PRETORIA, Jan. 15 .- The final agree ment between President Krueger and Sir Hercules Robinson, Governor of Cape Colony, regarding the disposal of prisoners captured as a result of Dr. Jameson's raid into the Transvaal was completed yesterday. Jameson and the officers will be tried in England. The rank and file of the freebooters are now on the way to Natalia, where they will be handed over to the British authorities, who will decide the treatment which they are to receive. AMERICANS IN THE TRANSVAAL LONDON, Jan. 15.-Wiltz of Cal-ifornia, a friend of John Hays Hamnornia, a friend of John Hays Ham-mond, the American mining engineer arrested with others at Johannesburg on a charge of high treason, continues his efforts in behalf of Hammond and other Americans in custody at Johan-nesburg or Pretoria. Discussing the situation today, Wiltz said:

"Our government must understand this fact, that all demands of diplo-matic courtesy were satisfied by Chammatic courtesy were satisfied by Cham-berlain's kind response to Secretary Ol-ney's request that Great Britain pro-tect the interests of Americans in the Transvaal. But nothing could be worse for Americans, as the feeling against all Englishmen is exceedingly bitter, while the Boers are very friendly to the Americans. Indeed several of these ar-rested are on the best of terms with the Boer government.

Boer government.
"None of the Americans were con nected with the political movement-they simply joined the Reform Commit tee formed in an emergency to preserve the peace of Johannesburg. President Krueger arrested all members of the committee but I believe that prompt accommittee, but I believe that prompt ac-tion taken through our own representa-tive at Cape Town would secure the re-lease of Americans. Any delay may endanger their lives, as the Boers are intensely exasperated. We should have a representative in the Transvaal for Americans, though a few occupy most important positions and trade with the United States is very leave. Most of United States is very large. Most the lumber used in the mines com from Puget Sound."

THE ARREST OF J. S. CURTIS. NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—A local paper says that among the Americans who have been arrested in Johannesburg for alleged conspiracy against the Boe government is J. S. ance in the mining circles of the world. His mother and sisters live in the Kensington apartment house and they, as well as his friends, are amazed at the report of his arrest for being one of the leaders in the recent uprising in the Transvaal, as he has always been strongly opposed to the English schemes for securing control of the country, and has often mentioned the matter in letters written to friends in this city. His sympathies have always been with the government, although he went to Africa originally as an agent of an English company.

For some months now Curtis has not written home, and his mother has been dependent entirely upon the newspaper reports for news of him. Although an American citizen, very little of Curtis's life has been spent in this country. He traveled in Europe for many years and received his education in Germany. Eight years ago he was sent to South Africa as an expert mining engineer by an English company to examine gold mines there. He has been there ever since. During his residence in the Transvaal he has accumulated a fortune, and is now one of the wealthiest men there. Curtis is married, but has no children.

(SI TELEGIAPH TO THE TIMES.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—(Special Dispatch.) The story of the latest improvement in the old gold-brick game comes from London and is told in Truth its leaves of Yawas and the story of the latest improvement. Truth in its issue of January 2. It cost an Englishman $6000 and may have cost others as much. Truth does not tell the name of the victim, but calls him Mr. Y. Some time after Y. died a letwas received in England addressed ter was received in England addressed, to him. It was dated San Francisco, and was signed "Spencer." The letter was apparently written by some one who had been in correspondence with the man to whom it was addressed and it was the report of alleged operations to get possession of a mysterious treasure about which Y. knew. The letter asks how Y. would advise having his share disposed of.

The letter reached Mr. X., executor of the estate of Y. After some correspondence between London and San Francisco, Spencer and his friend and X. met at New York. The first sample of treasure, apparently native gold in large nuggets, was produced. Two nuggets, weighing sixty ounces each, were brought to Mr. X. at his hotel. He was invited to drill them and the dust drilled was collected. X. fused it himself into a lump and took it to a jeweler, who at once pronounced it pure gold. Having satisfied himself, X. met his friends again and told them he was ready to complete the transaction.

After complimenting him on the busing satisfied himself, X. met his friends again and told them he was ready to complete the transaction.

After complimenting him on the businesslike way in which he had acted, they told him there was a great deal more of the stuff to be taken to England, and it would be necessary for him to make four journeys for the purpose, but he could now start with the first two nuggets on the payment of the "thousand pounds." Mr. X. expressed surprise at the mention of £1000, and his friends on their side were surprised at his surprise. The payment of £1000 had been clearly agreed to in the correspondence with the deceased. At an earlier period, possibly, X. might have shied at the suggestion that he was to buy gold with gold, but having thoroughly satisfied himself of the genuineness of the treasure, it seemed to him foolishness to raise a difficulty over a mere matter of detail. He cabled to England, accordingly, for £1000, and on its arrival paid it over to "Spencer" in exchange for the two nuggets, with which he departed for England.

It will not surprise the reader to hear that when he got home and came to have the precious metal assayed it proved to be worthless, being composed of iron pyrites slightly gilded and compressed by hydraulic pressure in order to give the right weight for bulk. The New York police said today that the trick was an entirely new one to them, but they did not doubt its truth.

The Syndicate Banks May Buy as They Please.

A Couple of Very Remarkable Communications.

There is No Doubt as to the Popula Loan Being Taken and Little Doubt that Gold Will Disappear as Usual.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15 .- The member of the government bond syndicate re-ceived in the mail this morning a circular letter from J. P. Morgan & Co. releasing them from the combination to furnish their pro-rata of $100,000,000 in gold, and a second $100,000,000 if desirable, taking payment in 4 per cent.

government bonds. The reason given for the dissolution of the syndicate is that the syndicate contract called for a bid for "all or none," and therefore Morgan was unwilling to make a bid under the present circumstances, as he might seem to pre-sent for consideration by the Secretary of the Treasury the throwing out of smaller bids made in good faith under a public call. The only emergency, in Morgan's judgment, which would justify such a course would be the failure of the public to respond to the call of the government. It has been necessary to delay the dissolving of the syndito delay the dissolving of the syndi-cate up to the present, as every inan-cial interest required the protection of-tered by the knowledge that the syndi-cate was in existence, prepared to make the loan a success under any circumstances.

"On the 23d of December," Morgan says, "I was invited to Washington for a conference. During my visit there no negotiations for a loan were even suggested, nor was there then or since any agreement or request that I should take any steps preparatory to making take any steps preparatory to making the contract. I came, however, to the conclusion that the President and Secretary of the Treasury would use every power at their command and maintain the gold reserve; that no steps would be taken until it was ascertained what Congress would do; that the executive lepartment would prefer to secure $200,000,000 gold, and it was certain that no relief could be obtained from Con-

"Upon my return, appreciating the gravity of the situation, and in order hat I might be prepared to act promptly, I took steps to ascertain to what extent it would be possible to se-cure the cooperation of capitalists in forming a syndicate which would agree o sell the United States government 200,000,000 gold coin. The contract $200,000,000 gold coin. The prepared and signed by the pants did not stipulate whet purchase will be by private contract or public offer.
"The only provision in addition to the important one that no gold should be withdrawn from the treasury was that the minimum amount of the contract should be $100,000,000, and the maximum not over $200,000,000. The applications far exceeded my expectations. end of three or four days the end of three or four days the total of $200,000,000 was exchanged, and I had full authority which would enable me, whenever and however the executive might decide to act, to secure that amount of gold for the treasury reserve in exchange for United States bonds. The participants may be divided into four classes: People of Europe prepared to ship gold to this side; institutions in the United States in possession of gold contract of sold everythms. institutions in the United States in possession of gold coin who wanted bonds either for investment or as a basis for national bank circulation; third, banks in warlous cities willing to exchange gold for bonds, expecting afterward to sell them on the market; fourth, institutions and firms not having gold, but which would get it at whatever cost, provided the contract was put in force. Participants were about equally divided among the four classes. Having completed the syndicate, I entered into negotiations in Europe and places other than London, where the market was closed to us, and through the Deutsche Bank and Messrs. Morgan, Harjes & Co., negotiations were practically concluded.

"On January 4, realizing that the

"On January 4, realizing that the tension was growing daily and had become serious, I addressed a letter to the President, calling his attention to the situation and representing that the most important step was the restoration of government credit by replenishing the stock of gold. Details of what was proposed were given and assurances offered that the utmost efforts would be made to procure for the treasury 11,500,000 ounces of gold."

The circular concludes: "I feel perfectly satisfied that there is no question as to the success of the loan."

The letter to the President to which the circular alludes follows: "On January 4, realizing that the

"To the President, Washington, D. C.: Sir—It is with great hesitation that I venture to address you in relation to the present financial situation. As you are doubtless well aware, financial affairs are approaching a serious crisis, and the tension today is extreme, and whilst no outward evidence has developed, we are likely at ary moment to reach the point and consequences which it will then be too late to remedy. The gravity of the situation must be my excuse. The most important step at the moment is the restoration of government credit by placing the gold reserve in the treasury beyond question. This much accomplished confidence both at home and abroad in the stability of our currency will be restored.

At the same time, I recognize the effect of legislation which has been proposed, and the discussions thereupon in both houses of Congress which might lead you to hesitate to make a private contract.

But recognizing as I do that the responsibility of decision lies with you, I pledge to you every influence and effort in my power to assist the government in its endeavor to make successful a negotiation by public advertisement, which shall result in the sale to the treasury of 11,500,000 ounces of United States gold coin ($200,000,000), and further, I will, so far as I possibly can, take such steps as will enable the syndicate which I represent to join in making the negotiation successful to its full amount. Awaiting the indication of your pleasure, I remain.

THE WASHINGTON PHASE OF IT. WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The an-councement that the bond syndicate had been dissolved was received here with some surprise, although among officials conversant with the changed situation no other course has seemed open to Morgan and his associates. The reason given for the dissolution is accepted as the true one, since Morgan and the succepted as the true one, since Morgan accepted accepted as the true one, since Morgan accepted acce gan and his friends are fully aware of the fact that the success of the loan by popular subscription is no longer a matter of doubt. To hold the syn-dicate banks to the terms of the con-

a matter of doubt. To hold the syndicate-banks to the terms of the contract, it is argued, would prevent any of them from participating in the loan except in the capacity of a syndicate, which under the changed conditions, almost certainly would result to their disadvantage.

Mr. Morgan's purpose, therefore, in releasing his associates, it is believed, is to give them an equal chance with the other banks and financial institutions to secure whatever part of the loan they may desire. The only criticism so far heard of Morgan's public statement is that his assertion that he "was invited to Washington for a conference" is misieading, as the natural inference is that this invitation came from the President, or by his sanction, from some member of the Cabinet. This, it is said, is not the fact. When Morgan came to Washington the President declined to see him, nor, it is added, did he confer with any member of the Cabinet at the President's suggestion. It is stated on high authority that the President and Secretary Carlisle have received such assurances from a large number of prominent bankers throughout the country that there can not be a doubt as to the loan being a success.

It is argued that, during the late eastern bankers took advantage of the eastern bankers took advantage of the sharp decline in American securities and, as a result, their holdings are now large and must be protected from the further decline which would necessarily follow the failure of the loan or the depletion of the reserve to a point so unfavorable as to affect the market. Under these circumstances it is be-lieved that should a large export movement set in before the loan is con-summated, the large banks and other financial institutions would neutralize the effect by making deposits of gold. financial institutions would neutralize the effect by making deposits of gold.

In any event the officials here are not apprehensive of any serious difficulty in maintaining the reserve at about its present figure, nor in placing the $100,000,000 loan at a fair price, both to the government and to the purchaser.
The only serious question involved in the situation, it is said, is from what source are the bond-purchasers to obtain their gold, and if from the banks, as seems altogether probable as to a very large percentage of it, will not the banks eventually recoup their reserve holdings by withdrawals from the treasury?

Senator Allison Put Forward as a (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, January 15.—If any doubt has existed of the avowed candidacy of Senator Allison for the Republican nomination for President it was dispelled today by the action of the Iowa Congressional delegation, With the sanction of Senator Allison himself the delegation held a conference at-son movement, as this Congressional committee will cooperate with the other body. The Senator's friends believe his strength can be demonstrated to the country by an active and organized movement in his interests.

A POPULAR CANDIDATE.

DES MOINES (Iowa,) Jan. 15.—The joint Republican caucus met today. W. B. Allison was nominated by Senator. Each speaker referred to Senator Allison's fine record and paid especial attention to the fact that he is a candidate for the Presidency.

At the conclusion of the speeches, Senator Allison received the unanimous vote of the caucus. In a few minutes Senator Allison appeared. His reception was an ovation. Chairman Allen then said: "Gentlemen of the caucus—I take pleasure in presenting to you Hon. W. B. Allison, our next President."

Senator Allison made a brief speech A POPULAR CANDIDATE.

SALT LAKE, Jan. 15 .- Hon. Frank Cannon and Arthur Brown, the Repub Cannon and Arthur Brown, the Republican caucus nominees for the United States Senate, have been the recipients of numerous telegrams from all parts of the country offering congratulations. Judge C. W. Bennett. who made a gallant fight and received within 3 votes of the required 29, says he is satisfied with the result. The friends of Col. Trumbo say that he declined to have his name used in the caucus because at least fifteen members favorable to his nomination had gone into the meeting with the understanding that it was to be only a conference and not binding.

The Tribune editorially this morning congratulates Cannon on his nomination, and of Arthur Brown says: "As for the nomination of Arthur Brown, it was unexpected, and will strike the people as something in the nature of a trick and bad faith. Mr. Brown deserves nothing from the Republican people. He is not of the stuff that the ideal Senator is made. He has none of the qualities that are looked for in that high and illustrious position, but many that one would suppose should forbid thinking of him in that connection. The caucus action as to him can only iorbid tainking of him in that connection. The caucus action as to him can only be explained on the theory that a sudden madness overtook the members, and in their frenzy they recked not of consequences. His election will mean nothing good for Republicanism locally: it will signify nothing for Utah before the nation."

The family consisted of father, mother and seven children, five of whom were at home at the time of the attack. The father was a druggist and the family father was a druggist and the family lived in rooms above the store. Kaisarea was almost entirely destroyed on November 30 and Kzralian's house went with the rest. Everything of value which could be carried away was stolen by the Turks and the torch was applied to the rest, house, furniture and all being utterly consumed. After the Turks had departed those who had escaped the massacre returned to the scene. Among other bodies they found that of Kzralian in the street in front of his house. Notecortent with killing him, the fiends had shamefully mutilated the body. It was entirey stripped of clothing and horribly gashed about the breast and face.

LETTER FROM CLARA BARTON.
PHILADELPHIA, Jan, 15.—The Press today prints a letter from Clara Barton on the Armenian question.
She states that the first appeal to the Red Cross to act came from the missionary boards at Constantinople.
To this two conditions were made, that the request come from the people of the entire country and that sufficient money should be realized. The first was complied with and the National Committee guaranteed sufficient funds. The International Committee, the official head of all the Red Cross treaty nations having no objections, preparations for salling were made.

The American Red Cross had no part in raising the money, its only mission being to distribute. Then came the objection from the Turkish government. Miss Barton declares that that government is not antagonistic to the Red Cross as such, but objects to the distribution of foreign relief on entirely different grounds, neither in its power nor that of the secretary to control. LETTER FROM CLARA BARTON nations. Senator Sherman said that there appeared to be no need for the proposed legislation. Consideration of the bill was indefineitely postponed. Senator Sherman reported favorably a joint resolution appropriating $55,000 for the expenses of the commission engaged in fixing the boundary between Alaska and British America, along the line of the 141st meridian of west longitude. There was some objection to immediate consideration, but on Senator Sherman's statement that the to immediate consideration, but or Senator Sherman's statement that the suspend operations unless an appro-priation was given, the resolution was passed.

Senator Mills of Texas took the floor in support of his resolution introduced yesterday concerning silver bonds, etc. He spoke extemporaneously and received close attention. He first drew attention to the long-continued antagonism to silver and the present locking-up of the accumulation of silver in the treasury vaults, due he saidlocking-up of the accumulation of silver in the treasury vaults, due, he said, to powerful influence in this country which claimed that the prerogative of issuing money should be given to corporations to expand and contract as they pleased. The national-bank idea was not a Democratic idea, the Democratic policy favoring the retention by the government and people of the money-making prerogative. Senator Mills showed the contractions and expansions of circulation made by the banks, and said that this system was now to be perpetuated by further issues of bonds. "Let any party," said Senator Mills, "Let any party," said Senator Mills,

"Let any party," said Senator Mills, "dare to go before the country in the coming contest with a plain declaration favoring a bonded debt and a bank circulation, and when the cam-paign is over that party will need the of a first-cla ss undertaker paign is over that party will need the services of a first-class undertaker."

He differed with the President on this subject and he regretted it. But this was a country of free discussion and the differences with the President and the Secretary of the Treasury existed in spite of high personal regard for them. The President wanted more bonds added to the people's burden and imposing this burden upon our children and our children's children.

Senator Gray asked if Senator Mills believed in notes which were never redeemed; in short, in flat money.

Senator Mills rejected the idea that legal-tender notes were flat, and explained the theory of flat money. "Why did not our distinguished Secretary of the Treasury," asked Ma Mills, "when the bank conspiracy began, say to these gentlemen, 'Now show your cards and I will pay you in silver?' If the Secretary had coined the silver in the treasury and paid it for current expenses there would have been no deficit. The President's bond issues were futile. It was like pouring water through a sleve. The hundred-million issue a few days hence would be followed by another hundred millions in a few months. The President's language concerning finances sounded like the statements of Jay Cooke, when he advocated national debts as national blessings."

vocated national debts as national blessings."

The bank power, he said, threatened to wield a controlling power in the Senate, the House of Representatives, the executive branch and the United States Supreme Court. This last branch had grown so powerful that it could almost decree monarchy in the United States. That would be no more absurd than the decision against the income tax, overruling the decisions of a hundred years. The Senator closed with a strong expression of his purpose to at all times resist the growing influence of the bank power.

The silver bond bill was taken up at 2 o'clock, and Mr. Peffer of Kansas addressed the Senate. He said that the speech of Mr. Mills had at last justified the Populist party.

"We have the remarkable spectacle," said the Senator, "of a Democratic Senator holding a distinguished place in his party, arraigning and denouncing the policy of the President which this party brought into power."

Mr. Peffer urged in particular the repeal of all laws authorizing the issue of bonds. He yielded the floor to permit Senator Pugh of Alabama to offer a resolution, similar in text to the resolution historically known as the "Stanley Matthews resolution," for the payment of government obligation in either coin of gold or silver. Senator Pugh gave notice that he will ask a vote on this resolution on Monday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—At a meeting of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations today, a resolution was prepared by Senator Davis, defining legislative action, and the attitude of this country toward foreign encroachment on the Western Hemisphere in accordance with the Monroe doctrine, was discussed, but final consideration was postponed until Friday. While the committee is almost unanimous in advocacy of such a declaration, there is some objection, especially on the part of Senator Gray, who expressed the opinion that unless the declaration was modified in some particular, it might lead to complications which might be avoided by proper care. Ex-Senator Spooner concluded his argument and was followed by Pettit, direct representative of the railroad company. Mr. Spooner's argument consisted principally of citation of authorities favoring recognition of jurisdiction of the Milwaukee court. He said in conclusion that he believed it would be in order for the Supreme Court to make a rule in equity which would prevent such a complication in future as had arisen in this case.

in equity which would prevent such a complication in future as had arisen in this case.

Pettit opposed the position of Turner and Spooner. He denied the assertion that the receivers were appointed in the midst of a panic, declaring that months were consumed in deciding whether to apply to the courts sitting at Milwaukee or in those of Chicago and St. Paul. He said the recognition of the Milwaukee receivership in the beginning was due to the fact that the parties who applied for the appointment of receivers were in possession of the road and of course turned all the property over to them. Pettit's argument was for the recognition of jurisdiction of the Circuit Court for Washington district. He said that his choice was controlled by the fact that the railroad company had more property under that jurisdiction than any other. Choate, who appeared for the Adams committee, representing the bondholders defended the jurisdiction of the Milwaukee court. The justices asked several attorneys to prepare such orders at they might wish to have promulgated, to be submitted to them at a future meeting which the justices would hold for consultation.

SHE CANNOT COMPROMISE.

ENEZUELA BOUND BY THE TERM OF HER CONSTITUTION.

Old Records-Salisbury's Organ Will not Admit that Arbitration is Possible or Probable.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—New and important information on the Venezuelan question having a direct bearing upon the possibilities of a settlement of the boundary dispute by the two interested governments without the assistance of any other powers and seemingly discounting the probability seemingly discounting the probability of such an ending to the controversy, was today pointed out by Mr. Heatwole of Minnesota, a member of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs. The British government, according to the most recent and apparently-inspired utterances of its semi-officia organs, has turned to the policy of bringing about a resumption of diplomatic relations with the South plomatic relations with the South American republic and then proceed to direct negotiations with the republic to determine the boundary, as the most feasible path by which it can emerge from its present position without a practical retraction of Lord Salisbury's refusal to arbitrate.

Mr. Heatwole, who has given some attention to the Venezuelan question, has procured a copy of an important attention to the Venezuelan question, has procured a copy of an important document-published in 1887 for the government of Venezuela, embracing all the correspondence between its representatives and those of Great Britain upon diplomatic matters between the two governments from the years 1883 to 1887, when the most active efforts to reach a determination of the boundary to 1887, when the most active efforts to reach a determination of the boundary line were under way.

In this correspondence Venezuela re-peatedly affirms that it is impossible for her to compromise the boundary claims by any treaty or convention, because of the terms of her national constitution.

In this correspondence Venezuela repeatedly affirms that it is impossible for her to compromise the boundary claims by any treaty or convention because of the terms of her national constitution.

ARBITRATION NOT LIKELY.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—A dispatch to the World from London says that it would seem from the Times' leader on Venezuela that recent efforts toward arbitration have found much favor in Downing street. If there exists any indications in the English press of Lord Salisbury's disposition in this matter, it is to be found in the columns of the Times. That paper has, from the beginning of the controversy, seemed to be inspired by the Premier. If, therefore, is speaks by authority, any material results from arbitration seem as remote as passible.

It is now settled that the territory really in dispute is that containing the agold-producing districts, which have attracted the immigration of English adventurers. These districts conceded, it may be easily assumed that Vene-suela may have the rest without fur-ther controversy.

Lord Salisbury has not only the largest party majority behind him in the history of Great Britain, but he has just now been assured of the unan-imous and enthusiastic backing of the whole country in the preparations for war against Germany. That seems now to have passed and the Premier's policy towards the United States is not likely to be less dictatorial than it was before this assertion of practically unbefore this assertion of practically un-limited support. There seems danger that if hereafter he maintains the tone of his instructions to Sir Julian Paunceof his instructions to Sir Julian Paunce-fote, it may surprise the people of the United States possibly to a dangerous repetition of the popular outburst of a week ago.

CAMPAIGN BADGES FOR VENE-

ZUELA.

NEW YORK, Jenuary 15.—By the steamer Venezuela, which sailed from this port yesterday for La Guayra there was a consignment of goods to Venezuela of several thousands of buttons similar to the ordinary campaign badges, with a small satin flap attached. On top-of the button is a picture of ex-President Monroe and the words "America for Americans; one country, one flag, one God."

The buttons were sent by N. Bolet, ex-secretary of the Venezuelan legation at Washington. Speaking of the matter he said:

"By the last mail I received from a friend at Caracas a letter saying the people there were wild with enthusiasm and would buy anything which contained a suggestion of sentiment. He requested me to send something to sell and declared that he could dispose of 1,000,000 pictures of Cleveland and Monroe. I decided upon the President Monroe buttons as the most appropriate and convenient souvenirs and sent a batch yesterday for a starter. I have ordered 50,000 more to be shipped by the next steamer. They will sell for 25 cents 50,000 more to be shipped by the next steamer. They will sell for 25 centrapiece,"

California Wants More Money for Improvements.

Important Convention Meets at San Francisco.

A Telephone and Telegraph Con instion—Tow-boat Superintend-ent is Dismissed—The Railroad Commission's Victory.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.-The Calornia River Improvement convention act in fifth annual session today at the Chamber of Commerce. Delegates from eighteen counties in the State and from the cities of San Francisco, Oak-land, Alameda, Stockton, Marysville and San Jose came to order at the call of Chairman A. H. Rose of the Executive Committee, and settled down immediately and enthusiastically to the work on hand. great work of making navigable great interior waterways of the From 10 o'clock in the morning till late at night the convention was in almost continual session, and when the day's labor had been concluded, the largest convention of the kind ever assembled in California was more than satisfied with what had been accomplished. As a result of this all-day sitting, it was unanimously decided to send a delegation to Washington at once to impress upon the Congress of the United States the absolute need if an appropriation for river and harbor improvement in California, the delegation to hang on with unflinching persistency until the desired end has been accomplished. In addition to this a strong and logical memorial was drafted to Congress, setting forward the many reasons why California, so long neglected in the river and harbor appropriations, should not get some small share of the attention due her. One among many reasons was to the effect that while California has paid in less than $227,000,000 to the support of the Federal government, she has received less than $11,000,000 in the way of appropriations for all purposes. There were fully 100 delegates in their seats when Chairman Rose rapped for order and stated the purposes for which the convention had been called. THE PROCEEDINGS.

THE PROCEEDINGS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—The California River Improvement Convention began sessions here today with a large representation from the northern and central counties of California. Prior to the meeting of the convention the Executive Committee had met in executive session and discussed the publication in a morning paper of the statement that Eugene J. Gregory, ex-Mayor of Sacramento and treasurer of the California River Improvement Association, was a defaulter and that a large shortage in the association's funds had been discovered.

Senator Cleaves of Shasta denied the Senator Cleaves of Shasta denied the interview in which he was quoted regarding the alleged shortage, and William Johnston of Sacramento, who had been appointed a special committee to investigate, reported that the discrepancy between the accounts of Gregory's books and the accounts of Gregory's books and the association's accounts was only $113. Of this sum $50 was in the bank now to the credit of the association, and of the remaining $63 Johnston thought much of it had probably been expended since the last meeting for expressage and other necessary charges of the association for which no voucher had yet been filed by Gregory.

charges of the association for which no voucher had yet been filed by Gregory.

The convention was called to order by J. H. Rose of Colusa, who spoke of the necessity of securing an appropriation for the development of the San Joaquin, Sacramento and Alviso rivers that water transportation might be secured for the valleys of the State. William Johnston of Sacramento was elected permanent chairman, J. M. Cleaves of Shasta, secretary, and Robert T. Devlin of Sacramento and F. M. Swasey of Redding assistant secretaries. The convention then listened to a long debate on the question of sending a committee to Washington to work for an appropriation for the development of California's rivers.

The following committee was appointed to prepare a memorial to Congress regarding the necessity for liberal appropriations for the development of transportation in California rivers: Will S. Green of Colusa, R. T. Devlin of Sacramento, H. J. Corcoran of Stockton, H. Weinstock of Sacramento and S. F. Ayers of Santa Clara.

The convention proceeded to the selection of an Executive Committee composed of one member from each county, to be chosen by the delegates from that county, and eight at-large, to be named by the convention. This resulted as follows:

Judge McKenna ruled that the railroad, Judge McKenna ruled that depositions and evidence taken before the Congressional Commission in 1886-7 when various officials of the Southern Pacific testified to the road's cost and maintenance, may be admitted in the present proceeding. The depositions were objected to because the officials of the company made them in their private canacity as citizens and not as of the company made them in their private capacity as citizens and not as officers of the company. The court overruled this objection, however, holding that an inquiry of the Congressional Commission took on a sufficiently official character to enable it to be received as evidence in the present proceeding.

TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH.

Novel Combination to Be Effected

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—The "hello giris" must learn telegraphy. The word has gone forth, and it will not be many months before the telephone wires through the entire State will be carrying telegraph messages, ticked oft by the girls who heretofore have only been required to say "What number, please?" "There you are."

The lines will still be used to talk over. But a telephone wire has what is known as a "telegraph side," that is to say, a message can be ticked over it while a conversation is being held at the same time. In fact, two messages can be sent, as each of the two wires, one going out and one returning, which are necessary to complete a telephone circuit, makes a telegraph circuit. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15 .- Th circuit.

The work done by telegraph will at first be done for the company; no outside messages will be accepted, at least not until November of this year. This is because of an agreement between the telephone and Western Union people. After November it is probable that the telephone company will become an active rival of the Western Union and the Pacific Postal Telegraph companies. With a complete plant doing the work of two companies, no extra expense for linemen and operators, the telephone company would make large profits transmitting telegraph messages.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—A proceeding was commenced in the Supreme Court today that will be of interest all over the State. It is designed to test the new primary election law and takes the form of an application for a writ of mandate. The petitioner for the writ is W. A. Gett, Jr., of Sacramento and he asks the court to compel the Supervisors of Sacramento county to observe the law, alleging a failure on their part to do so.

The law requires the Board of Supervisors during the month of January to prepare slips containing the names of thirty citizens in each election precinct, from which the primary election terest all over the State. It is de-cinct, from which the primary election officers are to be drawn. Gett alleges that he requested the Board of Super-visors to comply with the law, but they have refused. He therefore wants the Supreme Court to settle the puestion.

HAVANA, Jan. 15.—(By South American Cable.) The air is full of rumors regarding negotiations going on between the captain-general and insurgent leaders, but the general opinion is that even if they are taking place there will be no result from them.

Gomez's attack upon Bejucal and other places south of this city is to create a diversion under which his lieutenant, Gen. Antonio Maceo, may retire from the province of Pinar del Rio.

Further news from Gomez was received this evening from San Antonio de los Banos, to the westward of Salud, and in a southwesterly direction from Bejucal, where he was repulsed yesterday. Moving apparently towards La Ceicaba, Gomez has burned the railroad station at Reborucal, west of San Antonio de los Banos, and when last heard from was moving so rapidly that it is not thought the troops under Gen. the direction Gomez is taking he may contemplate an attack upon Guananajay.

In the province of Matanzas the insurgents are again becoming active in anticipation of a coming second, or eastern, army of the insurgents under Gens. Rabi and José Macco. Small bands are reported to be on the move in the vicinity of Canasi, Bolondron and Jovellanos, which is seriously interfering with the plans of the Spanish commanders to collect a considerable force of troops in the district of Colon with the view of trying to bring about a pitched battle with the insurgents advancing through the province of Santa Clara.

The distress in the province of Matanzas and other places devastated by the insurgents is very great, and the local authorities in various districts have been granted permission to collect funds by public subscription for the relief of the sufferers. In addition, all the farmers and all the employes of the different branches of the government have agreed to give one day's pay each month toward the funds being collected. The price of provisions is raising very rapidly and the expense of living is fully 50 per cent. more than a month ago. At the rate things are going, though the Spanish authorities are still hopeful of driving the insurgents eastward and westward of Havana, the city of Havana will be the most expensive living-place in the world. If this is the case with the insurgent eastward and westward of Havana, the city of Havana will be the most expensive living-place in the world. If this is the case with the insurgent eastward and the mercantile community is heartily thred of the insurgents are unable to check the advance westward of the second Cyban army.

Business is suffering terribly on all sides and the mercantile community is heartily thred of the insurrection and everything connected with it.

REPULISED WITH HEAVY LOSSES.

REPULSED WITH HEAVY, LOSSES

HAVANA, Jan. 15.—It is reported that the insurgents under Gomez were repulsed with severe losses in the second attack yesterday upon Bejucal.
Still another report of an encounter with Maximo Gomez at a point near Sebarucal has been received. This time it was Gen. Prat who reports that he had another engagement with Gomez and that he has also put the Cuban forces to flight. No details of the engagement are given nor is critical. stated as to the amount of the inflicted, but it is said that Gor proceeding westward and that he to relieve Maceo and to reinforce The Spanish authorities claim they had pressed Gomez hard fo days and that they have succeed days and that they have succeeded in doing what they sought in driving him back into the heart of Pinar del Rio province. They say that the combined forces of Gomez and Macco are now in a seriously-compromised position and they do not fail to disseminate the impression of their confidence that they have at least got the insurgents to a disadvantage, and will be able to prevent their escape from Pinar del Rio.

CAMPOS ASKS FOR CAVALRY. MADRID, Jan. 15.—Capt.-Gen. Campos has asked for cavalry reinforcements to be sent to Cuba and it is officially reported that the situation there is regarded as being of the most critical sort.

Tupper is in It. OTTAWA, (Ontario,) Jan. 15.—Sir Charles Tupper has entered the re-organization Cabinet as Secretary of State.

WE

MARRIED TO LIVE.

The Mogul of Polygamy Unearthed at New York.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.-There is a man now serving a term of one year in the penitentiary for the larceny of $$, whose record as a polygamist gives him preëminence in evil. Thirteen mar-

$8, whose record as a polygamist gives him preëminence in evil. Thirteen marriages have already been traced to him and there are more to come, say the authorities. He married under the names of George Maier, Joseph Mailer, Joseph Miller, George Muster, Joseph Mailer, Joseph Miller, George Meyer.

Meyer's object in forming this connubial thirteen club was to obtain money. One of his wives is suing him for divorce. This universal benedict was not at all fastidious. He married any woman he happened to become acquainted with, no matter what her age was, if she had money. He allied himself to women varying in age from 25 to 45 years, and it made no difference to him whether they were pretty or homely. Nor did it matter how much or how little money they had, provided they had some. He married one woman for as small an amount as $17. With others he got dowers varying from $25 to $500. He had no other occupation and simply married for a living, not disdaining as a side issue to steal whatever money he could lay his hands on.

If the woman he married suited him he remained with her a few days; if not, he left as soon as he had secured her money. As a rule, however, he did not marry on a credit, as it were. He generally obtained the money the pretense of wanting to start in business.

FLOW OF GOLD. Current May Turn. (BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)

LONDON, Jan. 15.—(By Atlantic Ca-ble.) At the half-yearly meeting today of the Union Bank of London, the new or the Union Bank of London, the new governor of that institution, F. O. Schuster, said the prevailing impres-sion that the large increases in the stock of gold was due to increased prostock of gold was due to increased production was only partly true. It was from the United States, he added, chiefly that the increase was obtained. The imports from the United States, continued Schuster, were due to currency troubles and want of confidence arising therefrom, but in his opinion the troubles would not continue much longer and when these difficulties were overcome, as he could not but hope they would be, sooner or later, the tide might turn the current into the opposite direction and it might set in with great rapidity and force.

site direction and it might set in with great rapidity and force.

Schuster said it was true that Mrs. Langtry had brought an action to recover for the loss of her jewels, which were entrusted to the care of the bank and which were obtained from it by a forged order. He added that the bank was resisting Mrs. Langtry's claims. The jewels have been variously estimated to be worth from $50,000 to $200,-000.

Howland Olive Orchards.

Howland Olive Orchards.

As an investment, as a future pay business, we believe the Howland Olive chard and Olive Plant is worthy of a though investigation by anyone wishing permanent and paying business. We believe that the olive busiess is but in its fancy and stands today where the ange industry did 15 or 20 years ago. Ltower the statistics and see the amount olive oil and olive pickles shipped to the country and then see the small amount its produced and you can begin to real what the future will be for this indust. And the quantity of oil used today is build drop in the bucket to the amount that whe sused when thoroughly introduced in country, and any person or company it gods into the business now and gets the trade established will get the full benefit of the future. The Howland olive orchard and plant consists of 150 acres and olive m which cost over $5000. One orchard is cated 10 miles southeast of Pomona: acres soild to olive trees, mostly 4 and yields, just commencing to one or one of the country of Pomona, near North Pomona Deptition of Pomona near North Pomona Deptition Dept

NICKEL HOTEL OF REGULAR ARMY.

Nuisance and Ought to Be Sup-pressed—Some Types of People Who Patronize It.

The 5-cent lodging-house conduct by "God's Regular Army" in the base-ment of the building at No. 105 North Los Angeles street is condemned as an unmitigated nuisance by the wholesale merchants who do business in the neighborhood. They say it is head-quarters for an army of hobos and bummers, who infest the neighborhood during business hours and are a nul-sance and a menace. Protests against the continuance of the barracks have been laid before the Council and Po-lice Commission. The police, also, as a rule, look upon the place as a nuisance, a mere rendezvous for idle vagabonds, who, whether they have a nickel or not, are assured of a place to sleep at right. are assured of a place to sleep at night, while in day time they move about and beg or piffer for a living.

The lodging-house complained of presents some peculiar features to one who has never been in impecunious circumstances. It is situated in a cellar, and contains accommodations for 150 lodgers. The price charged each wayfarer for a bed is one nickel, but those who are lacking even this small sum are permitted to sleep on the benches which occupy the center of the room. The beds, which are simply composed of canvas, swung from wooden frames like hammocks, are ninety-six in number, and these are filled every night with that class of humanity known as tramps. In the initiatory proceeding of song-praise at the barracks their husky voices, often impregnated with "booze," are heard.

men who labor, and perhaps have families to support.

But, according to Mrs. Temple, the woman in charge, there are exceptions to this rule. Occosionally there knocks at the portals of the lodging-house of God's Regular Army a man who is without funds, yet merits the recognition of all philanthropically-disposed persons. In nine cases out of ten such an one feels the humiliation of his position, and on applying for a free lodging, or on purchasing a

On account of the breaking of a big fly-wheel in the power-house of the Los Angeles Electric Railway a few days any-wheel in the power-house of the Los Angeles Electric Railway a few days ago, that company was obliged to make an arrangement with the Traction Company to furnish power to operate the cars on part of its system. Since Tuesday the Traction Company has been supplying the "juice" for the University and Pleo Heights lines south of Tenth street. This arrangement may continue for ten days, as it will probably take that length of time to replace the broken wheel. The Traction Company, having a double plant, is able to furnish power to its rival. On Monday an attempt was made to operate the crippled lines with "juice" from the Pasadena power-house, but the result was delaying of traffic on the Pasadena line, so the effort was abandoned and arrangements made with the Traction Company for supplying the necessary power till the damage can be repaired.

Last January we started in to do a very much larger dress goods trade than we had been doing. After passing through the year we can safely say no dress goods department in this city can compare with ours in the large increase in the sales. During the Fall season we made the largest increase in dress goods sales we ever made. The black dress goods sales were more than three times greater than the previous year. We had a larger stock; we had more salable goods, and the prices were lower than we ever sold dress goods for. As the new year begins we are taking more interest in the Dress Goods Department, and will endeavor to largely increase the business this year. We are starting right. We have good goods, at a very low price. The three greatest sellers are 50c, 75c and $1 a yard. At these prices we can safely say we have the best values. We have the largest assortment; this is specially true as regards black goods. Black goods have been more largely worn than any 75c other class of goods; they will be more largely used for the Spring. A great many ladies will make up separate skirts and will wear silk and cotton shirt waists with them. Blacks will go with any shade or color, and for this reason the demands for black goods will largely increase. For the next few days we will offer special inducements in Black Dress Goods for 50c, for 75c, for $1. In this connection we will offer a line of New Silk Waists, in new Spring designs, for $4 each. We claim that no waist in this city will compare with this waist for less than $6. Have you noticed the great improvements in the Linen and Domestic Department? New men are at the helm; trade more than doubling; the values in Towels and Table Linens for the next few days will be the best ever offered in this house. Special values will be offered in Napkins and sets; Crashes at remarkably low prices. A few White Quilts, $1.25, as good as any offered in this city for $2. We have allotted more than double the former space to the Domestic Department, and to introduce this department more favorably to public notice extra low prices will be made in nearly all classes of goods. New men in the Domestic Department. New prices to encourage larger buying.

The following was submitted to the Council by the Building Committee:

"We, your committee to whom was referred the petition of Mackay & Young, contractors on the new school buildings, requesting an extension of thirty days time on contract, beg leave to report that we are unable to determine the merits of their claim; that while we are opposed to extending time on contracts of this kind because of the urgent need of these schoolhouses, yet we feel that full justice must be done, and the same consideration given to this case as has been given to any other. Therefore, we recommend that this whole matter be referred to the Superintendent of Buildings to make a full report. City Hall Elevator Will Stop Unless Funds are Forthcoming.

The financial situation at the City mum, in the hope of tiding over the present stringency, but there are other features of the situation which have not been reckoned on by the Council-men. City Clerk Luckenbach is cognizant of them, however, and yesterday decided to inform the City Fathers just "where they are at" in view of recent Councilmanic orders. The following communication was prepared by the clerk and will be submitted to the Council next Mondow.

cil next Monday:
"To the Honorable Council of the City of Los Angeles: The custodian of the City Hall begs leave to report as follows: On the 18th day of November, 1895, your honorable body passed a resolution that the aggregate amount requisitions allowed monthly by requisitions allowed monthly by the Supply Committee, added to the regular amounts authorized by ordinance or contract, be limited to $12,000 per month on the cash fund, and the clerk be instructed to keep accurate account of the same and report to the Council on the last Monday of each month.

"On the 6th day of January, 1896, your honorable body, upon recommendation of the Supply Committee, instructed me as City Clerk to notify all officers, boards and commissions not to employ poards and commissions not to emplo any assistance or to purchase an goods without first obtaining therefore goods without first obtaining therefor an authorization or requisition approved by the Council and signed by the Mayor. Under these instructions of your honorable body the honorable members of the Supply Committee have very properly refused to approve any requisitions when the total expenses against the cash fund for any given month have aggregated the sum of $12,000. This amount during the month of January was reached at the first session of your honorable body. Under the instructions given the city officers the instructions given the city officers I am prohibited from purchasing any supplies or articles of any nature with out first having obtained a requisition rom your honorable body therefor There are now in the hands of the Sup ply Committee a number of requisi-tions from me for various articles which appear to be absolutely neces-sary, but which cannot be approved under the orders of your honorable body.

"I have no desire to violate the instructions of the Council, and unless am instructed otherwise, shall carry such instructions out to the letter. To accomplish this it will be necessary to shut down the elevator of the City Hall, turn the gas off of all depart-ments in the public building, as no re-quisitions have been allowed for these purposes, and refuse to purchase any articles, however necessary or urgent the same may appear.

"I trust that your honorable body will recognize the fact that I have no desire to be technical in these matters but I do not feel warranted in placing myself in the position of having your honorable body refuse to approve the bills for supplies which I purchase, and you can scarcely refrain from doing so, when they are purchased in violation of your direct orders."

FIRE COMMISSIONERS.

Assistant Chief Explains Why H

Assistant Chief Smith was before the orders of the Commissioners in the matter of using the fire apparatus outside the city limits. Before the board was called to order, a secret session was held and the case of the Assistant was held and the case of the Assistant Chief discussed. It was evidently the purpose of the board to let the disobedient official down as lightly as possible. When his explanation was given, in which he said that by using the engines and men he saved nearly $20,000 worth of property, the board simply forgave the Chief and ordered him "not to do it some more." The Mayor thought the owners of the property saved should contribute a liberal sum to the Firemen's Relief Fund, in view of the services rendered. Commissioner Grider announced that he had been given $35 for this purpose from Messrs. Ewing and Parker. The Chief said that the cost of responding to an alarm was on an average $500, and the Commissioners agreed that the men who profited ers agreed that the men who profited by the department's services ought to contribute at least that much to the

A warrant was ordered drawn for $17.50 in favor of H. Augustine, a department employé, who lost some time by reason of a horse's kick received while on duty. H. A. Bingham was granted permission to operate a gas engine at No. 623 South Broadway. The petition of J. W. Fox to erect a blacksmith shop at the corner of Lake Shore avenue and First street was referred to the Chief, as was also the application of the Abbotsford Inn to use crude oil as fuel.

THE COURTS.

Discussion of the Question of Pri-

The question which is just now agitating the minds of the county officials is that of the new law-concerning primary elections, which promises greatly increased expense and much more cum-bersome political machinery. Under this provision, which applies only to counties of the first and second class, three elections must be held, instead of one. The first is in March, for the purpose of electing delegates to nominate the Presidential electors, who are elected in July, the great election fol-

Councilman Snyder objected to the motion, claiming that the dust of the streets would bring a howl of remonstrance from the merchants, whose goods would be ruined by the flying particles of dirt.

It was decided at length by the Council to make a trial of dispensing with the sprinkling carts on the paved streets, and President Teed's motion was adopted.

Councilman Ashman moved that the City Water Company be notified to repair the fire hydrant at Boyd and Walstreets. Adopted.

City Clerk Luckenbach yesterday sent the following notice to the City Attorney:

"At a meeting of the City Council,"

made as a basis to any contest in the form of injunctions, or otherwise, and the chief anxiety of the board just now is for quick action in the matter. Yesterday F. W. Wood, chairman of the Republican Central Committee, with one or two other delegates of the political parties, were invited to an informal conference with the Board of Supervisors, regarding the action that should be taken in this matter.

Neither of the political parties seems inclined to take the initiative in fighting the new law as unconstitutional, and the delegates were backward about expressing an opinion. They seemed to agree that the Citizens' League should take some action in the matter, but it is uncertain as yet just what will be done.

Judge Shaw gave judgment for the plaintiff in the case of Eldred vs. Seamans, a suit for foreclosure of mortgage.

J. C. Bewley recovered two judgments in the amounts of $336 and $331.75 and costs against J. B. and Anne Leonis, for services rendered, Judge Van Dyke granting the decree.

Judge Van Dyke ordered two judgments for the plaintiff in two separate suits to foreclose mortgages brought by W. F. Lancaster against Charles Hoffman et al. The judgments were for $1479.75 and $2240.25, and findings were walved in both cases.

Judge Smith set the trial of S. A. Garrett for February 24.

attorney with a kink in his morals, is before the public again on another suspicion of embezzlement. The mother and sister of Antonio Aguilar, who was given a fourteen-year term in San Quentin for manslaughter, attempted to send him some money. They claim to have placed $25 in Biscalluz's hands to be forwarded to Aguilar, but word has just come to the Sheriff that the money never reached the hands of the prison officials. The mother and sister of the prisoner were in the Sheriff's office yesterday seeking redress, and bitterly accusing Biscalluz of making away with the ptifful sum they had scraped together in the attempt to procure a few little comforts for the prisoner who, whatever his crime, is at least dear to them. The women are ignorant and poor, but the matter will probably be taken up at once by the officials.

to be enjoined, by creating a Primary Election Fund.

In Sacramento, which also claims to be included under the new law, under the classification of 1881, which, dividing the counties for all purposes except roads and highways, is not repealed by the classification of 1893, which is for the purpose only of regulating the compensation of county officers, the fight has already commenced. W. A. Gett, Jr., has sued for a writ of mandate requiring the Board of Supervisors to proceed under the primary law. The case is set for next Monday, in the Supreme Court. If it is held that Sacramento is a county of the second class, the whole question will be decided, otherwise another case must be brought in San Francisco or Los Angeles.

Mr. Powers any the Possel of Camero. The Supreme Court yesterday sent down a decision affirming the judgment of the lower court and the order denying a new trial in the case of D. O. McCarthy vs. Mount Tecarte Land and Water Company. Mr. McCarthy sued on a claim assigned to him by the firm of J. Harvey McCarthy & Co., which sold and delivered to the defendant goods to the amount of $2500. The interest of the firm in this claim and account had been assigned on November 24, 1891, and afterwards the defendant paid $250 on account. Judgment was asked for the unpaid amount, with interest, and the court found in accordance with the complaint that goods of the value of $2500 had been delivered and that $250 and no more had been paid on account.

In 1892, a year after the assignment off this claim, there was a settlement off this claim, there was a settlement between the firm of J. Harvey McCarthy & Co. and the defendant, which settlement Mr. McCarthy thought embraced only the items in litigation in another action. He did not examine the bills, and the defendant claimed that the receipt which he gave for them embraced all the items here in controversy. The assignment, however, was made before this settlement and under these circumstances a settlement with J. Harvey McCarthy would not relieve the defendant from liability for a debt previously transferred to the plaintiff.

On December 15, 1894, the defendant made a demand on the plaintiff for a bill of particulars. Six days afterward the bill was served. Upon the trial the defendant objected to the reception of any evidence upon the ground that it had not been delivered within five days after demand, as provided by the statute, and contended for a rigid construction of this section, but the Supreme Court has decided that such an action would be oppressive, and so affirms the judgment. The Supreme Court yesterday sent down a decision affirming the judgment

Bundled Off to Whittier.

Burr Drake, a bright, though rather tough little fellow of 13, was committed to Whittier yesterday by Judge Mc-Kinley. Burr did not seem to be at all a vicious boy, his chief sin being a love of freedom and horses. He got tired of going to school and went out to Baldwin's ranch, where he obtained a job at exercising horses, and was peacefully and healthily earning his bread and butter when he was swooped down upon and packed off to Whittier to find a home among the incorrigibles.

The box contained a dozen "Franklin Rocket Printer" outfits—each one comprising a set of rubber letters, a holder, a little tube of ink, a pad, and other things appertaining to a stampling outfit. Fritch was, of course, afraid to sign his name to his letters and circulars, so he used these stamps. His correspondence was extensive, and letters are still coming for him from far and wide.

THE FIESTA PROGRAMME.

CONCERTS, PAGEANTS, BALLS AND ALL SORTS OF GAYETY.

The Official Programme—Articles in Eastern Newspapers-Choo

The Fiesta Committee is working with an energy that makes things hum. The programme has at last been completed, programme has at last been completed, and is ready for announcement.

The great celebration will last four days—from April 21 to April 25. The ceremonies of the 21st will be merely preliminary to the real business of the festival. On April 21 the heralds and days on a great of the queen will aradvance guard of the queen will arrive, and pass along the principal streets of the city. That evening the queen will appear at the Pavilion, and La Fiesta will be formally declared begun.

The following afternoon—April 22—the city will pay honor to the queen by a street parade. There will be floats symbolizing the land's progress and prosperity, and a concourse of Spanish riders, military, Indians and Chinese.
That evening there will be a grand concert at the Pavillon.

April 23 will be signalized by an athletic performance at Athletic Park, Besides the sports of civilization there will be strange Indian races and games, and a tournament. The evening of the illuminated street pageant—"The Land of the Sun."

Children's day comes on the afternoon of April 24. There will be music, and a parade of the children's floats, and the raising of a magnificent flag on the biggest liberty pole in California, which will be set up in Central Park especially for the occasion. Friday evening comes the gayest hour of all—the bal masque at the Pavilion.

Saturday concludes the festival. In the afternoon is the flower parade of decorated equipages, which was so eminent a success last year, and in the evening the parade and carnival of the maskers and the "Revelry of Comus" wind up the Fiesta in a burst of joility and fun.

Not the less attractive features will wind up the Fiesta in a burst of jollity and fun.

Not the least attractive feature will be the concerts which will be given in the parks by noted concert bands every morning during the Fiesta period.

It will be remembered that the Fiesta has been placed in the hands of a committee of five members. This committee meets once a week, and at the twenty meetings held so far the attendance has almost without exception been unsanimous. The press of business is already so great that the committee will soon be compelled to meet twice weekly, and for the last few weeks before the end every day.

This Eventity Committee has a series fore the end every day.

This Executive Committee has power to appoint sub-committees to take charge of special lines of work. But in order that one man may keep track of everything that is done, Charles Dwight Willard will act as secretary of all the committees.

Willard will act as secretary of an the committees.

But two sub-committees have so far done much work—the Publication and Float committees. Chairmen have recently been appointed for the Ceremonial and Music committees, and work will soon be actively begun along these lines.

The Publication Committee has just issued its first printed matter—10,000 cards the size of a postal, containing a condensed programme of La Fiesta for '96. These cards are to be given to every merchant in town and he is to be asked to slip one into the letter every time he writes to an eastern friend. Any one who wants these cards to send away can get them at the Chamber of Commerce.

A few weeks hence will be issued the advance programme, and guide—a

A few weeks hence will be issued the advance programme and guide—a pamphlet of vest-pocket size. It will contain a history of the Fiesta since its inception, a programme more in detail and varied information about the city. There will be a list of the hotels, lodging-houses, etc. It is the wish of the committee to make this list complete, so all who have rooms to rent should let Secretary Willard know and their names and addresses will be inserted free of charge.

The third publication will be the Fiesta poster. This will be a work of art. It will make collectors go wild with admiration. A number of artists are exercising their wits in the search for ideas, and the man who suggests the best thing will be awarded the work. The whole country will be adorned with these posters—5000 will be displayed in hotels, rallroad offices, ticket agencies, etc.

Lastly comes the official programme, which will appear the week before the Fiesta begins. It will be artistically printed and handsomely illustrated with pictures of every float, etc. And there will be not one word of advertising in it. tising in it.

Besides these things, a series of three

Besides these things, a series of three articles has been prepared descriptive of Southern California and her great annual festival. These will be sent to 500 eastern newspapers, together with the matrices of the cuts. These letters will be sent out at intervals of two or three weeks—the first on February 10. Numbers of photographs and quantities of material are being collected, to furnish every aid to eastern newspapers wishing to print special articles while the festival is in progress. But the queen! This potentate has not yet been selected, but the mills of fate have already been set in motion. A committee of five of the most prominent women in the city will be appointed. These women will be pledged never to reveal in any way the personal identity of the august tribunal on which they serve. They will deliberate for a month or more, seeking for a woman of ability to perform the difficult duties of the regal station, a woman with a knowledge of the affairs of the world, a woman of wide acquaintance, and a woman of personal charms. Already one or two members of this committee have been selected, and the names of the others will be decided upon in a few days.

THE POLICE COURT.

Petty Criminals Before the Bar of Justice.
In the Police Court yesterday Rober In the Police Court yesterday Robert Gray, the youth who broke into the Pa-cific News Company's store on West Fourth street, was found guilty of petty larceny for stealing a dog. He will be sentenced for that offense to-day, and will likewise be examined for burgesty.

Charles Lindenberger pleaded guilty to the charge of disturbing the peace, and was fined $5, which he paid. M. B. Graham pleaded not guilty to the same charge and had his hearing set for January 20. Lindenberger, in pleading guilty, explained that Graham had made a picture for him which he declined to accept at the contract price, as it was an inferior work of art. He, however, offered him 25 cents for it, which Graham accepted, but refused to jeliver the picture. Lindenberger then called Graham some very hard names and Graham knocked him down and stamped on him. Officer Marden appeared on the scene in time to place both men under arrest.

The charge against Thomas Atwood, the hobo arrested by Officer Matuszkiewiz for carrying a concealed weapon, was changed to drunkenness. Atwood was found guilty and given a thirty-days' sentence. He was serving a sent/nee for carrying a concealed weapon, lecember 9, last, when held for burghay and transferred to the County Jail. Upon trial in the Superior Court he was acquitted on a technicality. turg ary.
Charles Lindenberger pleaded guilty

Fourteen days of his original sentence in the City Jail was still unserved, and this will be added to the thirty days given him yesterday, so Atwood has a prospect of doing forty-four days' pename in the chain-gang.

A. J. Rowan, the rough who tried to hold up an Italian, and hit Officer Kolle a biff in the neck when taken into custody, was given a fifty-days' sentence for being drunk.

George O'Brien was fined $20 for accumulating a jag of inbrdinate proportions. A friend kindly paid the fine, and O'Brien thus narrowly escaped a term in the chain-gang.

Joaquin Garcia was fined $10 for battering a countryman. The fine was paid.

A. J. Snee (colored) was convicted of battery and will be sentenced today. George Clark, tried for violating the hack ordinace, was discharged.

The case against Bedwell and Robinson for obtaining money under false pretenses was continued to January 23.

Ah Soon was arraigned for burgiary and had his examination set for January 21. He was arrested by Officer Lehnhausen, who alleges that Soon robbed the house of another Chinaman.

JOHNSTON FEELS SORE.

How a Local Constable Was Bilked

How a Local Constable Was Bilked by Newt Brown.

Constable J. Hary Johnston is losing confidence in human nature. He is too cute to be bilked by a bunco game, but when a man asks a favor of him under the guise of friendship and then leaves him in the hole, Harry's indignation knows no bounds.

Only yesterday the suave and accommodating constable of the ruby locks had to dig up ten great big American dollars to cancel an obligation for which he was surety. The money was paid "Col." Robert Kern, for the purpose of reimbursing "Bob" for cashing a worthless check.

The check was signed by Newton Brown, the indicted San Bernardino jailer, who accommodatingly took United States prisoners out to theater partles and oyster suppers. Brown came to Los Angeles January 7 at the behest of the United States grand jury. Meeting Johnston that day, he said: "Harry, I came to town today unexpectedly on business and am compelled to remain over night. I did not bring enough money with me to pay my expenses. Would you kindly identify me so I can get a check cashed?" "Certainly," said Johnston, who had known Brown for a long time and thought he was all right. Accordingly the urbane constable steered the San Bernardino jailer against "Bob" Kern and gave him a first-class recommendation, upon which "Bob" very cheerfully cashed a check on the San Bernardino National Bank for $10.

Johnston thought no more of the matter until yesterday, when the check was returned to "Col." Kern with the indorsement of the San Bernardino bank, "no funds," Of course Bob hunted up Harry and wanted to know what he meant by indorsing checks for people who had no money on deposit. Johnston inmediately made good the amount with Kern, but swore by the great horn spoon that he would get even with Newt. Brown, and further more would go security for no more officials from the rural districts, no matter how dire their needs or what their reputation for integrity. Johnston is out just $10 by his effort to do a friend a good turn and the next time he and Brown meet time he and Brown meet the fur win be apt to fiy.

What makes Johnston sorest is that Brown says he gave the Federal pris-oners, on whose account he was in-dicted, such liberties because he was a friend of Johnston.

GIVEN NINETY DAYS.

The Judge of the Kangaroo Court Frank Burke, alias Jack Buck, was given a ninety-days' sentence yesterday by Justice Owens for carrying a concealed weapon. Burke is a tough character who has won distinction as the judge of the "kangaroo court" conducted nightly at Lowe's corrai on Los Angeles street, allusion to which has been made in these columns from time to time. This corrai has been a rendezvous and sleeping-place for hobos of all descriptions, and many forms of vice have been practiced there. Last Saturday night Sam Henneson, a man who works for Reed & French, contractors, was held up in the rear of Rogers's saloon, adjoining the corrai, by a man answering Burke's description. The robber hit Henneson on the head with a revolver and relieved him of all the money he had—$4 or $5. Henneson reported the matter to the police, and Tuesday night Officer Fay caught Burke drunk and flourishing a revolver. He arrested him for carrying a concealed weapon, to which charge Burke yesterday meekly pleaded guilty and was given a three-months' sentence. Henneson has not yet come forward to identify Burke as the man who assaulted and robbed him. Should he do so, Burke will be tried for félony, and will probably be sent over the road. It is suspected that he is the author of a number of hold-ups and robberies that have occurred in the neighborhood of his loading-place, Lowe's corral, but proof is lacking. Frank Burke, alias Jack Buck, was

The reports from the several societies were all encouraging, showing a decided advancement during the past month. The work of the Newsboys' Home was under special discussion at this meeting, and at this meeting, also, preparations were planned and entered on pertaining to the coming Christian Endeavor convention at Pasadena February 22, at which there is expected to be a large attendance of Junior Endeavorers.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

One of the most beautiful weddings ever solemnized in St. Paul's church took place last evening at 8, o'clock when Miss Sara Genevieve Marix, on of society's greatest favorities, and Jesse Armstrong Jevne, were married. The church was crowded with their friends, 800 invitations having been is-sued. The chancel was very artistically decorated; the wall was hidden with callas and smilax, the pulpit and altar callas and smilax, the pulpit and at either side were potted palms and at either side were potted palms and plants. Ropes of smilax swung grace-fully overhead and fastened in the center with a large true-love knot of white satin ribbon. As the bridal party entered the Lohengrin march. First came the ushers, Messrs. D. Sale, Ben Coulter, Fellx Notman, Carroll Allen, Dickinson and Horace Henderson, followed by the bridesmaids, walking singly, their gowns of rainbow tints, producing a unique and very charming effect. They were Miss Bessle Bonsail, in plnk; Miss Lille Wellborn, in cream; Miss Kate Landt, in lavender; Miss Hattie Kimball, in yellow; Miss Marie Burnett, in blue, and Miss Cora Goodrich, in plnk. Their gowns were all of the same design, the satin skirts plain, and the décolleté bodices covered with ribbon and enged with pearl passementerie. A LUNCHEON.

A LUNCHEON.

Mrs. T. D. Stimson entertained very elegantly at luncheon yesterday, at her home on Figueroa street, in honor of Mrs. Charles Stimson of Seattle. The table decorations were extremely aretistic; upon a round mirror in the center was placed a cut-glass, pink-shaded candelabra, wreathed about the base with feathery asparagus plumosisus. At either side and extending down the length of the table, was a huge bow of broad pink satin ribbon. About each cover was trailed the asparagus, terminating in an exquisite cut-glass souvenir vase, filled with pink carnations, and tied with pink satin ribbon, inscribed with the guest's name. The guests were: Mmes. Charles Stimson, Godfrey Holterhoff, William Bishop, Walter B. Cline, John T. Jones, C. J. Fleming, Willard Stimson, Ezra Stimson, Will Caswell, John Byrne and R. J. Widney... THE LANG TRIAL.

Conviction Was Impossible on the Face of the Evidence. The result of the Lang trial has been the theme of general discussion today among the business men of the community. Although in other Mr. Lang might have been found guilty, the evidence in the case tried, it is decared by those who heard it, was insufficient to convict. A man in the community, who gives his entire time to temperance work, and who was present at the trial, expressed to day his emphatic condemnation of the prosecution of cases upon such firms conviction was the only thing that could be expected if justice is to be meted impartially, and every failure to convict encourages violations on the sly. The jury included men of strict church and temperance affiliations, and the large proportion who voted for acquittal is commented upon.

Foolish Policy Pursued by a Water Company.

The Lake Vineyard Land and Wa-The Lake Vineyard Land and Water Company is being severly criticised by those who are alleged experts in such matters, upon the size of the main now being laid upon Raymond avenue. It is said that a four-inch main is wholly inadequate to the demands made upon it, and in case of fire, particularly, it would be found a serious difficulty. In many parts of the city, where there is an apparent lack of water-pressure, the size of the main is wholly responsible. Realizing this defect in their system, the company has lately replaced several of these mains with larger, and the policy of placing such a small main upon one of the principal thoroughfares of the town, where the pressure is not now as good as it might be, is said to be of the "penny wise," and "pound foolish" sort of policy.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

OFFICE OF THE TIMES, Los Angeles, Jan. 16, 1896. CALIFORNIA'S GOLD PRODUCT Eastern papers are commenting on the statement that Colorado has got ahead of California in the production of gold for the year 1895. The figures given for Colorado are $17,340,495, which s $2,000,000 difference in excess of pre-vious estimate.

The San Francisco Chronicle does not believe that these figures are correct, and sees in them a further attempt to increase the remarkable boom which Colorado is at present enjoying in the East. The eastern papers, in comment ing upon the supposed backwardnes of California, also state that ther raulic system of mining.

This is far from being the case. On he contrary, there never was a time ince the early days, when more activity was shown in gold-mining it California. Mining operations are being pursued in two-thirds of the coun ties, and in one mine in the northern part of the State 2000 men are em-ployed. From the present outlook the gold product of California will be very largely increased during the coming

THE ORANGE SITUATION. Very gloomy reports come in from the or-ange-growing districts. The extent of closing days of the year is beginning to be apparent and it is much heavier than was at first supposed or reported. One report from Pomona estimates the oss by frost at three-fourths of the crop on the lower lands, and another estimate from Riverside gives the probable shipments from that place for the season at 1000 carloads less than it was expected would be sent forward. Even supposing that these estimates of loss are exaggerated, there is no It is a most unfortunate thing for the growers, just at this time, when every one was expecting a first-class trade, owing to the destruction of the Florida crop. As might be supposed, the loss is being still further exaggerated in the East. As mentioned The Times yesterday, one trade cular received refers to the frost cular received refers to the frost in Seuthern California as similar to that which visited Florida recently. This would mean that not only all the or-anges are destroyed, but most of the trees also. Doubtless, this false re-port will travel more rapidly than a correction can follow it. Eastern deal-ers are already warning their custom-ers to look out for frozen oranges from California, so that, altogether, the eutlook is by no means a bright one.

from California, so that, altogether, the eutlook is by no means a bright one.

To further complicate the situation there is considerable dissatisfaction just now in regard to the manner in which the Southern California exchanges are handling the orange crop. It is claimed that the market at some points has been demoralized by auctions, held by the agent of the exchange, and that bad judgment has been shown in distributing the fruit, an instance being given where a dozen cars of fruit were sent to one small place which could not possibly consume any such amount.

The orange-growers of Southern California are certainly experiencing a streak of hard luck. It was generally anticipated that the present season would prove a red-letter one in the history of the orange business, permitting the growers to recoup themselves for the losses which many have experienced during the past few years. Now comes the frost to dash their hopes, and the prospect of a demoralized eastern market behind it.

The lesson taught by the frost of December is that which has been preached over and over again in The Times, namely, that Southern California which we are in the habit of referring to as the "home of the orange," is really on the northern edge of the true citrus belt that extends through Mexico and Central America. The area of territory, even in the seven southern counties, within which it is safe to of territory, even in the seven southern counties, within which it is safe to counties, within which it is safe to grow citrus fruits as a commercial enterprise, is really quite limited—much more limited than most of us are in the habit of supposing. In fact, the safe area of citrus culture in Southern California is really confined to those stretches of land known as "frostless belts," not because they are absolutely free from frost, but because there is so little frost that delicate winter vegetables are seldom injured. On such land citrus fruits may be raised with absolute safety, but, as we all know, as "for the safe was made through O. A. Vickery.

absolute safety, but, as we all know, the area of such land is quite limited, and is cheap at $300 an acre, with water.

During the past ten years the exaggerated reports of the profits of crange-growing which have been spread abroad in the papers, aided by misrepresentations on the part of real estates. ange-growing which have been spread abroad in the papers, aided by misrepresentations on the part of real estate dealers, have combined to push the orange-growing section far outside of the safety line. In some sections, such as the lower portions of Riverside, oranges have been planted on land that is touched by frost almost every year. In the case of Riverside the mistake was excusable, because at the time when that settlement was laid out the orange industry was comparatively new in this section, but it might have been supposed that later-comers would have shown more wisdom.

The lessons of the past few years will not be lost. It is probable that the territory in Southern California devoted to orange-growing will increass slowly during the next few years, if, indeed, it does not diminish, as people find out that they are trying to raise citrus fruit on land that nature never intended for such a purpose.

A PECULIAR CIRCULAR. Messrs. J. H. Sheward & Co. agents. J. H. Sheward & Co., agents at Balti-more of the Southern California Fruit Exchange, have issued a circular to the fruit-dealers of that city, reading as "We are handling a great many navel oranges, and expect to be selling three or four carloads at each of our sales, which take place Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week. The fruit will be sold at market prices and you can certainly buy cheaper than f.o.b. California. We would be glad to have your support, and guarantee you a fair and square deal. Tomorrow we sell 1000 boxes of different brands, including one car fancy San Bernardino Company packing: expect prices to rule from $1.75 to $2.70 for the best." "We are handling a great many na-best."

This circular would appear to be more in the interests of the buyers than of the growers. It is difficult to see how the exchange can reconcile the statements it contains with the objects for which it was called into existence.

for which it was called into existence.

DRIED FRUIT SALE. That the market for dried fruits in the East has been in a depressed condition is generally well known. There are two principal causes for this. One is that a large proportion of the dried fruit shipped from California was of low grade; the second was the unusually heavy apple crop in the Eastern States last season. Exportations of apples were lighter than usual, the result was most of the crop stayed at home and sold at very low prices. At lower prices eastern people will give the preference to fresh apples over dried fruit.

Low as prices for dried fruits are they are likely to go still lower. Thomas Roberts & Co. of Philadelphia have issued a circular, a copy of which has been received here, of which the following is the text:

"We regret to say that two years of ruinously low prices on California dried fruits, and the very unsatisfactory market experienced during the same period, have resulted in the failure of one of the largest dried fruit houses on the Coast, one with whom our dealings in the past few years have been very extensive.

"We have now on hand twenty-five carloads of fruits consigned by the parties referred to, and we find it necessary to close them out immediately, so that we can render accountsales promptly.

"We realize that the only way to do

sales promptly.

"We realize that the only way to do this is to offer the goods at about 33 1-3 per cent, under their actual value."

The dumping of twenty-five carloads in a market already below profitable rates will be a severe strain on other holders of dried fruits.

NEW INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed yesterday by the Consolidated Asphalt Company of Los Angeles, an organization formed to develop and deal in oil, gas, asphalt and other products of like nature. The directors are William H. Worswick, George B. Hannaman, P. M. Hannaman, C. E. Donnatin and Josh Worswick, The capital stock is $1,000,000, divided into 100,000 shares of the par value of $10 each. The entire amount has been actually subscribed.

TRADE WITH GREAT BRITAIN.
During the recent war excitement attention has been frequently called in the press to the fact that in a war Great Britain would find it extremely difficult to get along without the supplies which she now imports from the United States. This is true, but, as a Kansas City paper points out, the loss would not be entirely on one side. For several years past our trade exports of products to foreign countries have ranged in value from $830,000,000 to $1,015,000,000, of which Great Britain takes about one-half, chiefly food stuffs and cotton. In 1893 England imported $421,134,000 out of our total exports of $831,000,000, or more than one-half, which is about the average proportion. We export annually to Great Britain about $100,000,000 worth of grain and breadstuffs, about $90,000,000 worth of provisions, including beef, pork, mutton, butter, milk and cheese, and $120,000,000 worth of cotton. War with Great Britain would mean the loss of this tremendous commerce, the burden of which would, of course, fall principally upon the agricultural classes. This is another reason why peace should be preferred to war, always providing that it is "peace with honor."

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS. DOUBLE-TRACK RAILROADS. The Riverside Press notes the fact that the Southern Pacific is now using its double-track between Los Angeles and Shorb, and says it is rumored that the line may be double-tracked as far east as Colton, but it errs in assuming that the State. There is a double track all the State. There is a double track all the way from Oakland to Port Costa, and for some distance on that line the track is quadrupled.

In Europe a single-track rallroad is a rarity. In fact, in some places they are forbidden by law. This undoubtedly explains to some extent the smaller number of accidents that occur across the Atlantic. Double-track roads are becoming more common in the crowded sections of the East, and they will undoubtedly be more general in California after a time.

POMEGRANATES. The little town POMEGRANATES. The little town of Piru, in Ventura county, produced and exported this year 40,000 pounds of pomegranates. The fruit was from trees on what had been considered absolutely worthless soil—sandy creek bottoms that are white with alkali. The pomegranate is a fruit for which the taste must be acquired. It is thought much of by the Mexicans, and valuable medicinal qualities are attributed to it. In this seation it is thought much of by the Mexicans, and valuable medicinal qualities are attributed to it. In this section it is chiefly grown in hedge form. Possibly a good market might be worked up for it in the East with a little effort.

TITLE INSURANCE. The annual meeting of the Title Insurance and Trust Company was held on Tuesday, when the old board of directors was rewhen the old board of directors was re-elected. L. C. Gates resigned as di-rector and was replaced by N. W. Thompson. The report showed the company to be in a flourishing condi-tion. A dividend was declared for the six months of 2 per cent. on common stock and 2½ per cent. on preferred stock.

DUN'S REPORT. Trade has been outer in nearly all branches of retail business during the past week and dealers are generally busy with the yearly stock-taking.

Jobbers report business seasonably dull, country collections slow, city collections fair.

dull, country collections slow, city collections fair.

Oranges have gone forward rapidly from Riverside. Other points are inclined to hold back shipments. The demand in the eastern markets has not met the supply and prices have weakened considerably since the opening of the season.

Dry weather has stiffened values in farm products. In dried fruit there is stagnation, practically not sufficient business upon which to base quotations. Dealers still hold choice stock firmly.

Banks report deposits keeping well up. They are not loaning freely but hoarding resources awaiting the completion of arrangements for the sale of the new issue of government bonds. There have been but two failures in our district during the week. Liabilities, $1,200; nominal assets, $6,300.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Wall street was agreegedly surprised today to find that the formal ammouncement of the dissolution of the world-famous government-bond syndicate was not followede by any sensational deve-opments. The knowledge that the new government foan would, in the event of necessity, command the support of the members of the syndicate either individually or as a combined force, caused the news to be received with equaminity. The volume of business was light and the market displayed a walting tendency. This condition may be set down to the uncertainty that prevaries in financial circles as to the probable course of the money market in the event of indiscriminate withdrawais of gold from the banks or the sub-treasury to pay for allottnensis of government bonds. As to fire the sub-time of the support of the members of the syndicate as individual bidders, is expected to result in very satisfactory prices to the Treasury Department. The market, after an early show of strength, developed a sagging tendency, due to the doubts entertainer in some circles as to the syndicate withdrawail. Sugar rose % per cent. TWO OR THREE HODS OF COAL A day and I will guarantee to warm a ten-room house with my hot-air furnace. F. E. Browne, No. 314 South Spring street.

To The Public:—

I was scriously afflicted for about ten years with lung, liver and kidney troubles frongue could never express the misery I endured during those years. I was reduced in flesh until I was a mere skeleton—my sight and hearing were badly impaired; was constantly troubled with constipation and piles and had a severe chronic cough in short. If we was a burden and death would have been a welcome guest. I was treated by various specialists from the United States and Canada but of no avail. I tried alithe patent medicines and pills I ever heard of, but these only gave temporary relief. Through the presistent advice of film, of an advice of the course, like many others, I had no faith in a Chinese doctor, but it only took a did the skepticism out of meand give melimplicit faith in his superhuman skill. In just five weeks the doctor pronounced me cured and now I can truthfully say that I never was healthier, and never felt better in my life. My sight and hearing are both fully restored that obnoxious 0 cough, constipation; and piles are entirely cured and I am rapidly gaining in flesh—having gained 40 pounds in two months. I am truly grateful to the doctor for having created in me a new life. I carnestly recommend all sufferers and skepics to give the doctor a trial and be convinced of his superfor skill as a physician.

Yours respectfully.

Questionable Methods of Obtaining Business Aired by a Residen of the Country-News Notes and SANTA ANA, Jan. 15 .- (Regular Cor respondence.) Dudley Iredell Edmund Ewell Eggleson Johnson Brackston Bragg Dutherow is again languishing in the County Jall in Santa Ana. He still has his name with him and it will no doubt be recognized by the reading public of Orange county, although to most of his friends he is known by the somewhat brief name of "Dud." That's what he is called for short. But to return to the individual himself. It will be remembered that Dud was a prisoner in the County Jail nimseif. It will be remembered that Dud was a prisoner in the County Jail here in 1893. In that year he was arrested on the charge of burglary, his uncle, David Dutherow, being the complaining witness. He had a trial in the lower court and was bound over to the Superior Court in $1000 bond. He could not give the bond and consequently was remanded to the Sheriff for safe keeping. He was turned over to ex-Sheriff Lacy on December 1, 1893, but after thirteen days of monotonous waiting he gave the Sheriff the slip one bright sunshiny day, when he was trusted to empty a bucket of slop, and at once gave leg bail, since which time he has, to all appearances, been as dead as if he had been swallowed up by the deep, dark blue sea. But he is here now. Sheriff Nichols heard of his return and today Deputies Ulin and Landell gathered him in out near the foothills and brought him back to the same jail from which he escaped December 13, 1893. "Dud" is in a hard row of stumps. PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

For the past week or more consider-ble complaint has been made at The able complaint has been made at The Times branch office from residents of the Garden Grove and Westminster country of the misrepresentations and the methods recently used by representatives of a local paper to obtain aid in a special "write-up" of that section of the country. So loud and so numerous have been these complaints and protestations that space is given to the following letter, in part, which was received in this city a few days ago from a resident of the locality referred to:

"Last week a representative of the Santa Ana Blade, a Mr. Bynon, I believe (an oldish-like man with rather gray side-whiskers) was on this side of the river circulating a story to the effect that Santa Ana had left Garden Grove and Westminster entirely out in the cold in the matter of arranging a drive for the visiting tourists January 8. This was made to appear as a dirty piece of work on the part of the Chamber of Commerce. The impression was left that the county this side of the river had few, if any, friends in Santa Ana, or in the Chamber of Commerce.

"Now, what I want to know is, is this really the case, or as it appeared to some of us later on, was the aforesald newspaper man simply carrying out a scheme to get some business from this section of country. He afterward, through a resident of this locality, proposed to give this section of the country a "write-up." I believe he called it, of 8000 words and to circulate from 1000 to 4000 copies of the paper among the toruists.

"If Santa Ana has got it in for us, I would like to know it; and also know why. If Mr. Bynon misrepresented Santa Ana and the Chamber of Commerce, I would like to know by what right this was done. We certainly have sectional jealousies enough in the county already, and then I can scarcely believe that any one would be so unscruptions anyway as to adopt such contemptible methods simply for perceivalery resease." contemptible methods simply for pe

In answer to the above letter, the Orange County Herald has the followng in part to say:
"In answer to the above.

"In answer to the above, we will state most emphatically that the Chamber of Commerce did not 'have it in' for the good people across the river. The route selected Wednesday was in nowise intended as a reflection on other sections of the county; it was simply taken because it furnished a beautiful and convenient drive, and, of course, it was impossible to show the tourists the entire county in one day. Indications are that the next route will be through the country west of the river."

The Excursionists Took the Plac

POMONA, Jan. 15 .- (Regular Corre ndence.) Between 1400 and 1500 peo-came to Pomona today on the thern Pacific Rallroad excursion from Los Angeles and Pasadena, and 100 more people came by the Santa Fé Railroad to North Pomona. Notwith-standing the local and the Los Annewspapers had repeatedly said in the last week that the excursion would be very large, probably ver 1000 people, no one here believed it would be more than a few hundred people at the outside. When the long people at the outside. When the long excursion train of two locomotives and seventeen cars, pulled in at the Southern Pacific station at 10:30 a.m., and women and men flocked out of the cars down upon the ground, every person in Pomona was dismayed. "What are we ever going to do with such a crowd?" was a common exclamation in the ever going to do with such a crowd?"
was a common exclamation in the threas of Fomenans about the station.
From noon until 2 o'clock all the hotels and restaurants in town did a rushing business. There had been insufficient preparation for feeding so large a crowd, but every one managed to get some sort of a meal, although it required patience in some cases.
Over one hundred people got something to eat at the grocery stores. The people (about 400), who came to Pomona on the Santa Fé road, had a littie difficulty in getting here from North Pomona station. The old, worn-out horse-cars that have been used for several weeks, while the regular steam motor, that runs between Pomona and North Pomona, is in the repair house, were packed with passengers. Men with horses and carriages conveyed the rest of the visitors here from North

Pomona.

Until early in the afternoon the air was cold and raw, and heavy clouds obscured the heavens, but at about 1:30 sunshine broke through the gray clouds, and the weather was agreeable. The committees of arrangements histled about, and before 2 o'clock nearly every wheeled vehicle in this community was out on the streets ready for conveying the visitors to points of interest in and about Pomona. But here again was found another ready for conveying the visitors to points of interest in and about Pomona. But here again was found another blunder. Because of a misunderstanding between the committees of arrangements here and the Southern Pactific managers of the excursion, no programmes had been provided, and the visitors wandered aimlessly about town for an hour or two, not knowing what plans had been made for their interest and comfort. The afternoon was spent in driving to the orange and olive packing-houses, among the orange and lemon groves, to the top of San José hills for the superb view to be had there; to the Howland olive oil mill; the State experimental station; to the Packard olive pickling works, and some went down and looked over the fence at Tonner's ostriches. A large proportion of the visitors had eight and ten-mile drives in Pomona Valley, and the pleasure they had was easily seen on their faces when they came back to take the cars for Los Angeles, late in the afternoon. Each excursionist was given a little box of Pomona oranges—two oranges in a box—or a souvenir of the occasion.

REDLANDS. REDLANDS, Jan. 15.—(Regular Correspondence.) The people of this city are justly indignant over the reports of respondence.) The people of this city are justly indignant over the reports of damage to the oranges, published in the Grocery World and other eastern trade papers, where it is stated that the Redlands orange crop was destroyed by frost. Before sunrise on Sunday morning, when the damage is alleged to have been done, the Times correspondent inspected a number of recording thermometers in different parts of town and found them ranging between 28 and 30 deg. Later, it was found that one themometer registered 26 deg. as the coldest. A very careful examination of orchards during the past few days has revealed an occasional tree, growing in arroyos or other depressed places, which shows damage, but the loss will not exceed 1:10 of 1 per cent, of the crop, it is so slight that one is justified in saying that Redlands wholly escaped damage. In view of these facts, the stories published in the east are justly denounced by the best-informed people.

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 15 .- (Regular Correspondence.) Last night a physician was summoned to the home of Mr. and Mrs Victor Rouchleau, in Arlington, diphtheria, and his practice was su that he could not attend the case with justice to other patients. He arranged with another physician, but there was justice to other patients. He arranged with another physician, but there was a delay of a few hours. When the other physician reached the house at an early hour this morning, it was found that Charlotte Belle Rouchleau, aged 2½ years, was dead, while in the same house were five other children with diphtheria fully developed. Two other children in the family had not yet been attacked with the disease. Two days before several of the children were in attendance at the Arlington school, the parents knowing them to have throat trouble, but not realizing the gravity of the disease. This has a tendency to cause consternation in Arlington and the public schools will probably be ordered closed at once and extra precautions taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

For several days the people of Riverside have watched the work on the Southern Pacific Railroad in this city with marked interest. Lots 4, 5 and 6, White's addition, front on Tenth street. They are owned by Mrs. Julia A. Berry, and the Russ Lumber Company has an office in a very small building on one of the lots. The railroad company laid its track up Tenth street, in direct line with this building, and only stopped when within a yard of it. Thus far Mrs. Berry and the railroad have been unable to come together in deciding upon the value of the lots. Behind this lot a big fill is being made by the railroad, and yesterday the workmen dumped a few loads of dirt on the disputed lot. An armed guard was then set to prevent further grading, and later an injunction was issued restraining the railroad men from doing further work, the Russ-Lumber Company beginning suit for damages. The murdered man was an employ of the pipe works, and the shooter is said to an idle character, who bears anything but a good name. The cause of the trouble was woman and whisky. Hazen and his wife, it seems, keep a sort of house of prostitution, and Cooke, along with Alfred Roberds. Thomas Rude, Edward Penprase and H. Bellfield visited the place. Hazen considered that Cooke had offered his wife an insult, and a fight was the result. Chamber of Commerce Election Work on Electric Road.

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 15 .- (Regula SANTA MONICA, Jan. 15.—(Regular Correspondence.) The annual election of the Chamber of Commerce was held Monday afternoon, officers and directors being chosen. The ticket prepared by the Nominating Committee about two weeks ago was elected throughout. The polls were open between the hours of 1 and 7 p.m.. Of the forty-nine members of the chamber, only twenty-new yeted. Many of the members are of 1 and 7 p.m. Of the forty-nine members of the chamber, only twenty-one voted. Many of the members are business men, and, as there was practically no opposition, it is thought that, for that reason, a large part of them did not take the time to come to vote. The polls were in charge of Assistant Secretary S. C. Wells, and the canvass was conducted by him and Robert F. Jones. Nearly all of the candidates received 20 each. The following-named are the officers chosen: President, Robert F. Jones; first vice-president, F. L. Simons; second vice-president, H. W. Keller; treasurer, M. H. A Santa Cruz dispatch, printed in the San Francisco Examiner of January 11, says: "A successful test with the Gersays: "A successful test with the Gerlach motor was made at Captona in the presence of invited guests. The big wheel revolved for some minutes with lightning-like rapidity. The power was found to be greater than was expected, although the tide was low. The paddles moved with the regularity of a pendulum, being moved to and fro by the waves. The test seemed to prove the theory of the inventor to be correct. Owing to the immense power it will be necessary to put additional bracing to the paddles. In two weeks the motor will begin active operations." E. Gerlach, the inventor named in the dispatch, was formerly a Santa Monica man. He made numerous experiments at Long Beach in the way of developing his invention.

For several consecutive meetings the attention of the Council has been given to the getting up of plans embracing, not only the distributing system in the city, but also of a large amount of work outside of the city, all of which is intended to impound and carry water. I take no exception to this work being done, but I do most decidedly take exception to being asked to vote to adopt an ordinance embracing all this work before we hear what the proposition will be to obtain and secure the water that is expected to flow through those pipes. ADVANCED FREIGHT RATES. All on Account of the Pacific Mail

An Associated Press dispatch from San Francisco says: "The Southern Pacific Company and other overland rallroads intend, on the 24th inst., to advance the rates on borax, canned goods and wine from California points to the East from 50 cents per 190 to 75 cents. Their action in this matter is due to the fact that the Panama Railroad has made an agreement with the Pacific Mail whereby its fight against the Pacific Mail and Southern Pacific is off.

TO PATCH THE COAL FIGHT. TO PATCH THE COAL FIGHT.
CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Receiver Trumbull of the Union Pacific, Denver and Gulf, was in the city today in consultation with President Ripley of the Atchison road, over the fight in coal rates now in progress in Colorado between the two lines. The matter had not been adjusted at nightfull, and, although the chances are favorable for an agreement, it is not an assured fact as yet. A second meeting will be held tomorrow.

CHARGES AGAINST VILLARD. NEW YORK, Jan, 15.—Complaint was filed today in the United States Circuit Court in the suit brought by the Northern Pacific and Manitoba Railroad Company against Henry Villard for an accounting. CUTTING CALIFORNIA RATES.

THE ELECTRIC ROAD.

Work on the electric road to run between this city and Los Angeles was resumed today. Track was laid some time ago on Oregon avenue, from the ocean to Seventeenth street. A force of the ocean to Seventeenth street is that the section of the transcontinental lines was held to charges of cutting rates to Californate, and against the Southern Pacific has been fall on the transcontinental lines was held to charges of cutting rates to Californate, and against the Southern Pacific has been allowing the holders of second-class to the country is steady, with good indications for continuance. Farmers are jubilant.

Completed His Work.

Postmaster Van Duzen's four years of office are over. At midnight yesterday he handed over his authority to Gen. John R. Mathews. The six station-masters reported at 7:30 p.m., and made their statements of the condition of their respective stations. An inventory was taken of everything in the office, and then the receipts were signed and the records handed over.

SEEDS OF HEALTH. Eating the wrong things, and too much of them at the wrong time, gives the of them at the wrong time, gives the stomach and the other digestive organs too much to do—gives them work that they cannot be expected to do. Such things prevent the free and regular action of the bowels, bring sick headaches, biliousness, kidney troubles, restless sleep, lassitude, nervousness, and plant the seeds of disease in all parts of the body. Health comes just as easy as disease. It grows up from those little sugarcoated seeds of health — Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are for nothing in the world but to keep the bowels regular, the stomach free from gas and fermentation, and the liver active.

LOS ANGELES ORANGES.

THEY ARE THE BEST FOR VARIOUS REASONS.

Riverside Product and Have a Better Flavor-The Why and

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14, 1896.—(To the Editor of The Times:) The writer begs to call attention to this "giltedged and golden product" in a few practical remarks, touching its history, the condition of growth, and the ef-fect of frost upon trees and fruit. Los Angeles has the honor of first producing the golden fruit in perfec-tion. The Wolfskill orchard stood for forty years and over the pride of this Southern City of the Angels. River-side settlers in 1867 were led to plant orange trees, inspired by the success of Los Angeles county orchardists. The Washington navel was brought into notice in Riverside, Shippers seized upon this as a pretext for claiming superior qualities for seedlings also. They shipped from all centers during many years, "all good oranges in Riverside boxes, all poor, sour or-anges in Los Angeles boxes." Hence followed the destruction of the reputation of Los Angeles oranges. When in December, 1891, Riverside oranges were ruined by frost, there When in December, 1891, Riverside oranges were ruined by frost, there was not a dealer east of the Sierras who would believe that there was a good orange in California. "As goes Riverside so goes the California orange." This is still the impression, as dealers will claim a higher price for Riverside than other brands. As year by year Riverside oranges are injured by frost, the market east grows more uncertain. If Riverside fruit is worthless, dealers order from the Mediteranean, and other localities with good fruit suffer a demoralized market.

The question, Why does the fruit of Riverside and vicinity suffer from frost toa a greater extent than in other localities? It is known that the orange will bear quite a degree of cold, but this same degree does more damage in Riverside (in many localities) than in Los Angeles county.

During the summer when the trees are sending out new wood, and the fruit is forming, in Los Angeles county, there is a daily cool sea wind blowing that to some extent hardens the wood, and also gives a thicker skin to the orange. In San Bernardino county there is almost tropical heat, and correspondingly delicate growth of wood, and thinner skin to the fruit. When winter comes with frost the trees and fruit are not fortified or prepared for the change, and must suffer.

prepared for the change, and must suffer.

The pulp of the best Los Angeles oranges is more delicate than the interior orange. As nature provides in the orange as well as all other plants a system of preserving its "cycle of existence," the orange with the delicate skin in winter will in its economy endeavor to throw out additional protection to the seeds. At the stage of development of which we speak that effort is directed to making a thicker pulp in order to clothe, so to speak, the seed center.

It will not take many years more of experience in losses to establish that an orange should not be judged by its exterior shell, any more than an oyster. It is of interest to note how unwilling we are to be guided by nature as a teacher. A horticulturist, of all people, should follow, not dictate to laws that are unbending and have no respect for commercial values. Los Angeles county oranges are still the best, and will remain so, as they are best in eating quality, and free from frost.

PEG-LEG WILLIAMS.

Members of His Gang in the Police

Peg-legged Tom Williams was before Justice Owens again yesterday to answer the charge of vagrancy. He pleaded not guilty, and demanded a jury trial. Williams is a professional beggar, and the "push" of a gang no better, than himself. If Williams has one redeeming trait it is generosity, but he puts even that to bad use. By means of his infirmity, having awooden leg, he is enabled to work on the sympathy of the public, and beg considerable money. As soon as he has made a stake, he joins the rest of the gang, and they go on a grand carousal. At least that is what the police say. Two other members of the gang, George Miller and C. H. Oliver, were in court yesterday. Miller got a sentence of thirty and Oliver of five days for being drunk. There are others, but they

Three regular soldiers, Frank Williams, George Carson and H. C. Davis, privates of the Seventh Cavalry, were booked at the police station yesterday morning, en route from Fort Grant, Ariz., to Alcatraz Island, where they are condemned to terms of imprisonment ranging from two to four years. They were sentenced by court-martial for desertion, insubordination and petty larceny. The prisoners were in charge of Sergt. Ritchey of Troop C, Seventh Cavalry, and three privates. They left for the north at 2 p.m.

Then he found Peruvian Bitters—and he is now rapidly going up.
Peruvian Bitters are composed of the world famous Peruvian Bark and other medicinal herbs of great value blended in fine old California brandy. The invigorating and tonic effect of the Peruvian Bark cooperates with the stimulating effect of the brandy but neutralizes its tendency to produce an appetite for more. Peruvian Bitters satisfy the desire for a stimulant—quench the fire instead of adding fuel. After taking this palatable and highly invigorating drink for a while the desire for alcoholic stimulants is gone; the appetite and digestion are in normal condition; the system is toned up and every function at its best. You continue to take Peruvian Bitters, not from habit but because you feel it does you continuous good, fortifies you against colds, malaria and disease germs of every description and makes you as far as possible a perfect physical being.

Application has been made by the Southern Pacific Company for a permit to hold a cycle race-meet at the track in Santa Monica on the date of February 22. The Crown City Cycle Cub of Passadena has made application to hold a meet at their track on the same date. The racing board cannot authorize both meets for the same day. The board has not yet announced which application will be allowed. The entry books will be opened about February 15 by the applicant securing the permit. All the leading crackajacks of Southern California will be entered.

The Executive Committee of the Cycle exhibition recently held at Hazard's Pavilion met Monday evening to wind up the financial part of the show. The East Side Cycle Cub reported a surplus of $50.50. The Citrus Wheelmen and the Roamers' Road Cub were not ready to report. The meeting adjourned to Tuesday evening next, when aki reports will be in readiness.

D. C. McGarvin, secretary of the committee, estimates that the final report will show $300 cleared over and above expenses. Plans are already being formulated for the next exhibition, to be held about January 15, 1897. As far as is now known, the present committee will be made a permanent body with power to make all arrangements for next year's shows.

DELAYED MAIL.

Chamber of Commerce Directors Want Better Postoffice Facilities. At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday afternoon Director Forman reported in behalf of the special committee appointed to look into the condition of affairs at the postoffice, that the committee had found tons of mail stacked up in all parts of the room, which the force was unable to touch until it had remained there anywhere from three days to over a week. That in their examination they had found a number of packages of notices to members of the Chamber of Commerce which were then three days old and which were not touched until several days later. Postmaster Van Dusen stated that the entire time of the force was taken up with handling the letters alone, and it was impossible to keep up with the circulars. At least ten more cierks were needed and the claim for that number could be substantiated by a showing of the increased business of the office. It was decided to send a letter to the Postmaster-General and also to Senator White setting forth the state of things and asking for additional clerks.

THE SAN PEDRO HARBOR.

The Free Harbor League is working diligently to increase its membership, and is meeting with gratifying success Not the least encouraging feature is the friendly disposition shown by those of our citiens whose personal inclination leads them to favor Santa Monica in preference to San Pedro as a site a government deep-water harbor. Most of these people recognize the fact that, as The Times has stated, the question has crystallized to the choice an error to suppose that opposition to San Pedro as a government harbor site can benefit Santa Monica. It simply postpones the construction of any deepwater harbor in Los Angeles county. Under such circumstances it is not sur-prising that few are found who are villing to continue to throw obstacles in the way of development at the site endorsed by the government engineers

While such is the sentiment amon citizens of Los Angeles county, it is no means abandoned his opposition to the harbor site chosen by the experts of the United States and the people of Southern California. He recently sent a communication to the Santa Monica Outlook, in which he thrashes over again those time-worn statements, which have been so frequently refuted during the past few years that it is entirely superfluous to further expose their baselessness to any intelligent person in this section. Mr. Huntington, however, is evidently a firm believer in the old adage about a "lie well stuck to." His statements are intended for the benefit of eastern people, many of whom are not well acquainted with the facts of the case. Mr. Huntington says: "I became sat isfied that it would be almost impossible to make a harbor for deep-sea go ing ships at San Pedro, for any amount the government would be willing to

This is entirely at variance with the reports of several boards of government engineers, who may be suppose to know at least as much about the question as Mr. Huntington-and to be less interested. Mr. Huntington says, referring to Santa Monica: "The best holding ground is there, while it is very poor in the outside waters of San Pedro

This is diametrically opposite to the facts in the case. At the meeting held at the Chamber of Commerce, at which the government experts were present, the San Pedro people had a ozen or more experienced sea captains on hand to testify as to the relative merits of the bottom at San Pedro and Santa Monica, but the Southern Pacific people—that is to say the Santa Monica people—did not dare to push

Mr. Huntington says:

"At Santa Monica anyone can come there and get just the same advantages that we have, as there is plenty of track room to reach the waters in the proximity of our pier which is just as good and no better than that occupied by the great pier, or if any other com-pany wishes to reach piers of its own by using our tracks it can do so."

dollars each. As we have stated, there is no dange that these transparent statements will deceive anybody here, but for the sake of Congressmen and others, who are not well informed on the subject, it will not do to let them pass unchal

THE SEASON'S OUTLOOK.

The clouds have rolled away, but the rain has not fallen, and some farmers are beginning to feel anxiety and to ask themselves what shall we do if the rain does not come? But it is by no means too late for abundant rains In some of the best seasons that we have known there was little rain until the latter part of January, and then it fell in abundance. Seed was sown and harvests ripened in due time, and agricultural affairs were everywhere great a bugbear for this section of California, even if it should come, as it was formerly, for our system of irrigation is so extensive that we are not as dependent as we once were upon the early and later rains. Our irrigating ditches do duty for the clouds, and the water for their supply has never yet failed us. We can fall back upon them with a sense of security that is comforting, and with the hope of sufficient harvests to prevent suffering and want.

To be sure we would all rejoice to see the clouds gather and the rain descend, but it is not late enough to be discouraged, or to croak loudly about the certainty of a dry year. Not since and yet every year since then that the rain was a little late the croakers have set up their cry and predicted all the ills that accompany a severe drought, but which have not once fallen to our

So let us take heart of grace and wait for the coming of the rain. But if it should not come we shall survive the failure, and Southern California will turn her waters into irrigating ditches until thousands of acres shall smile with abundant growth, and teem with their ripened harvests. We shall not be seriously hindered in our progress and prosperity in such event and Nature would eventually recom pense for any loss that might be our

The land sometimes needs rest, and harvests are always more abundant after it. Things go on according to fixed laws, and better laws, too, than fear, and probably one of these morn ings we shall waken to hear the patte of the rain upon the roof and be shamed of our unnecessary fears. Later: The clouds have begun to

FOUR RELATIVE PRONOUNS.

The present indications are that there will be no war between the United States and England over the Howells announces in Harper's Weekly that he is "agin" it. He says that President Cleveland had "four relative pronouns in one sentence toward the close of his message," and that, upon the whole, the "literature" of the message struck him (Howells) as being "turgid and clumsy." Therefore, there will be no war. For it would be madness for us to enter upon a war with England without the sympathy and support of William Dean Howells

It would, of course, be utterly unreaonable to expect William Dean Howells to take up arms in defense of an executive pronunciamento containing four relative pronouns in one sentence. The bare idea is too preposterous to be entertained for a moment. If there were no other reasons for Mr. Howells's positive refusal to bear arms, this alone would, as must be apparent even to the superficial mind. be quite sufficient. But there are others. The literature of the message, as Mr. Howells has so opportunely discovered, is, upon the whole, turgid and clumsy. This, of course, settles the What superlative folly, what fatuous idiocy, it would be for Mr. Howells to go to war in defense of literature that is turgid and clumsy! And how futile, not to say suicidal, it would be for the American people to support, aid and comfort of William This, again, is at variance with a Dean Howells! Obviously, so hazardous an experiment is not to be thought of Apparently fearful that some unchare Santa Monica site as a government itable persons may regard him as un-rbor the great difficulty of access to pains to inform us that he is not so. He says that he distinctly felt "a re-Huntington talks about other dent's message, and that he trill in less constructing piers. It is question he "took to be a patriotic go to war unless they had the personal emotion." The alleged fact that Mr. Howells felt a responsive thrill can be accounted for only on the supposition entence containing the four relative pronouns. This inference is strengthened if not actually confirmed, by the fact that the sentence containing the four obnoxious pronouns is found toward the close of the message. If Mr. How-ells had encountered this sentence in the earlier portions of the message it "goes without saying" that he would have felt no thrill-or at least that he would have felt no thrill of a respon sive nature. Anybody who is in the either as man or as author, must be well aware that it would be both a mental and a physical impossibility for him to be stirred to a sympathetic thrill by any kind of a state paper containing a sentence with four relative Continuing in the delineation of his emotions on reading the Venezuelan message (before he ran afoul of the obnoxious pronouns) Mr. Howells de clares that he "felt resurgence of the titude of Great Britain during our civil war roused in all; I remembered the injuries done us by that power during our colonial and revolutionary period; and I was glad that we were about to extirpate, extinguish and exerminate her in behalf of a sister republic on the northwest or the northeast shoulder of the South American continent. I have not a map by me but the precise geographical position Venezuela does not matter, and it never did. The Monroe doctrine itself does not matter for the purposes of the present inquiry except as the occasion of the patriotic emotion which experienced. Of course not. The Monroe doctrine and the precise geographical position of Venezuela be-blowed! The chief and in fact the paramount issue is as to whether William Dean Howells after having felt a resurgence of in dignation, can in any manner be induced to reconsider his decision not to support the government in case of war with Great Britain. Upon this great and vital issue, it is not too much to say, hangs the destiny of the republic There is, of course, no way by which the four relative pronouns in President Cleveland's message can be expunged or recalled. If that could be done the problem would be greatly simplified. But they have gone or are about to go-thundering down the ages, and nothing can stop them. Possibly, however, the situation is not absolutely without hope. There may be a bare possibility-we do not say there is such a possibility, but there may be that Mr. Howells is not wholly ob durate. If the 69,999,999 individuals who comprise our population (exclu sive of Mr. Howells) were to unite in a petition imploring him, for the sake his country, for the sake of its glorious past and its magnificent future, to exercise his broadest charity by overlooking the four relative pronouns so obnoxious to him in President's message, and agree to join his fellow-citizens in the common defense, if necessary-perhaps, if such a petition were presented to Mr. Howells, signed by the entire population. he might be induced to reconsider his determination: at least to the extent of pledging himself not to give aid and he might be induced to reconsider his determination; at least to the extent of pledging himself not to give aid and comfort to the enemy, in the event of actual hostilities.

The experiment would obviously be worth trying. For we ought to present a solid front to the foe, if worse comes to worst. We ought to be a united people. And what could be more disastrous to our cause than the lack of active sympathy and aid from William Dean Howells? Not to mention the appalling possibility that he might turn in and help the enemy!

It is, therefore, perfectly plain that the sympathy and co-operation of William Dean Howells must be secured at the sympathy and co-operation of William Dean Howells must be secured at the sympathy and co-operation of William Dean Howells must be secured at the sympathy and co-operation of William Dean Howells must be secured at the sympathy and co-operation of William Dean Howells must be secured at the sympathy and co-operation of William Dean Howells must be secured at the next annual meeting in October.

The under time both "Editor-in-Chief" Creighton and Managing Editor Stevens, as well as the both "Editor-in-Chief" Creighton and Managing Editor Stevens, as well as the follow reporters, are on the shelf, not to say allunde. Mr. Creighton cannot, it is understood, gre into the saddle again until a change is made in the directorate, which may possibly be effected at the next annual meeting in October.

The upheaval leaves the struggling Democratic organ practically without a head, though its stomach and appetite are all right. Meantime, the brethren of the Bourbon faith, who have been yearning for lo! these many moons for a sure-enough Democratic newspaper, written and conducted on common-sense lines, are throwing up their hands and crying aloud in the wildernes, "O. Lord! how long, how long?" In this state of affairs, interface, perfectly plain that the sympathy and co-operation of William Dean Howells must be secured at the next annual meeting in October.

The upheaval leaves the struggl

liam Dean Howells must be secured at any cost. How to secure it is the paramount problem, since those objectionable pronouns cannot be recalled. It is clear to any unbiased mind that there should be no unnecessary delay in this matter. For so soon as Lord Salisbury learns of the position assumed by Mr. Howells, a more bellicose attitude on the part of Great Britain may be confidently anticipated. The Venezuelan matter. William Dean Venezuelan dispute at the present time presents a rather pacific phase. But there's no telling what may happen when British statesmen fully compre hend the portentous fact that William Dean Howells does not approve the Venezuelan message-or certain portions of it, which amounts to the same thing. He must be propitiated, and there's no time to be lost. Who will start the ball rolling, and thus save the country?

It is desirable, from every point of view, that the constitutionality of the new primary election law should be determined before the next election. The expense of putting the law into operation in this county will be, it is estimated, some $10,000, and this money will have been thrown away should the law be declared invalid after the expense of holding an election under it has been incurred. A method of testing the law is open, and a test case should be brought at as early a date as possible in order that we may know just where we stand. Representatives of all political parties might properly unite in paying the necessary

Not to make use of the classical alhost to make use of the lusion to the contentious monkey and parrot, there is Hades to pay in the Herald establishment. "Shake-ups" parrot, there is mades to pay Herald establishment. "Shake-ups" are epidemic, and nobody seems to know just exactly where he stands. Only a few days ago Business Manager Bowen was "resigned" without his own consent, and his subordinate, Mr. Smith, put in his vacated place. At Smith, put in his vacated place. At that time there were rumors of dire calamity about to befall certain memnot come to pass at once. On Monday the managing editor and four members of the local staff were asked to resign, and all complied except Managing Editor Stevens alone. The directors had all along thought W. S. Creighton had written the really editorials (mostly single-tax) with the sonorous phrases and ponderous polysyllable combinations, and they (the directors, not the p. p. combinations) felt as much grieved at Mr. Stevens's disclosures as they did when first told that he (Stevens) was flying high on his receipts as Examiner correspondent—said receipts being, it was alleged ent—said receipts being, it was alleged, earned by Herald reporters. This charge, however, it is claimed, fell to the ground when it came to be cooked in the crucible of specific investigation cooked in the crucible of specific investigation.

When the directors voted on the dismissal of Managing Editor Stevens they were found to be three for and three against him, with one "on the fence." Then, in order to avert another damaging blow, to-wit, the bringing of charges—well-sustained charges—against Creighton for persistent literary piracy of an aggravated type, it was arranged that both editorial statesmen should "resign" forthwith and simultaneously. The plan was carried out; both "resigned," and their resignations were accepted by the board on Tuesday. Jac. Humphreys, a former collector, was made managing editor pro tem.

In this state of affairs, internally and otherwise, that boastfully-promised "new and fast press" and that "batotherwise, that boastfully-promised "new and fast press" and that "battery of linotype machines" do not materialize to any visible extent. The price of copies was lowered below the living point, then jacked up again, and still the coy populace hang back, and the prospects before the Herald are devoid of that calcium-light brilliancy which was represented to be coming right off. The inefficient Thorne type-setting devices have been rejected, and the concern has fallen back to discarded hand composition at a rate 25 per cent. below that prevailing in 1890, over which the disastrous strike of the Typographical Union took place.

With proper management, skill and practical newspaper experience, the abandonment of sky-scraping and demagogical policies, coupied with a modicum of good United States horse-sense, the Los Angeles Herald might be made a creditable journal and a fair property in time. These objects, it is presumed, are what our esteemed friends the enemy—to-wit, the Democratic party of Los Angeles—would like to see achieved. They will continue to wait for results.

see achieved. They will continue to wait for results.

It is learned that Directors T. D. Gibbon, John F. Francis, Abbott Kinney and others are endeavoring to secure a reorganization of the company on practical common-sense lines, with a view of saving the property from further deterioration.

Affairs Reviewed in All the County Offices,

Report of Remaining Offices to Be Submitted Later.

Sight-hour System Recommended for Clerks and Deputies—Sug-gestion that the Coroner's Office Be in Courthouse.

The grand jury made a partial report on Tuesday, which was made pub-lic yesterday. The report deals only with the county offices, and so far no serious charge seems to have been made against anyone. The report was ad-dressed to Judge Smith, and is as fol-

"The grand jury, acting under your instructions, has made due investiga-tion of the matters pertaining to the county business, and beg leave to pre-sent the following partial report: We sent the following partial report: We recognize that political influence is too often the cause of appointment to public office, and would suggest that real capability and merit be made the essential test of appointment and retention in the employ of the county.

"As a result of our labors, we would recommend a closer surveillance of their subordinates by the heads of departments. Such surveillance might care of the county business.

"The result of our examinations in a portion of the county offices is herewith presented in detail, and of the remaining offices will be presented in

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS. "The position of Supervisors of this county is one of great trust and responsibility; the powers of the Board sponsibility; the powers of the Board of Supervisors are great, and the expense of the county machinery enormous. The salaries and many other claims are paid direct by the Treasurer on the warrant drawn by the Auditor, and do not enter this report. Yet there were 14,412 claims and demands passed upon and allowed by the board from June 1, 1894, to June 30, 1895, amounting to $515,947.03. Quite a number of clerical errors were found in auditing these bills, but mostly of only small amounts. The only irregularities we discovered were in the meat bills for county institutions, where in certain cases meats were for from 8 to 10 cents per pound, although the countract price was only although the contract price was only 5 cents, and a charge for a coroner's ledger of $18, when the contract price was only $9.

"The board allows county officers additional clerical assistance from time to time at stated salaries, yet in no case is the time of work specified. We are reliably informed that the clerks as a rule work only from 9 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 5 p.m., or seven hours a day. If this large number of clerks and deputies worked eight hours per day quite a saving could be made to tax-payers. We earnestly recommend the adoption of the eight hour system.

ask the board to use its best efforts to see it enforced.

Numerous complaints were made about the management of the county roads, and insinuations that the moneys appropriated for their improvement were being squandered, yet no evidence of any criminality was presented to us. We can not offer any better remedy for this evil, if it exists, than the passing of a State law, authorizing smaller subdivisions of this county to form road districts, to manage their own affairs. We recommend the passage of a township government act for this county, which would at the same time enable the Board of Supervisors to attend more closely to the many other necessary details in the supervision of the county's interests and institutions.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE. We submit the result of our exam-ination of the books, vouchers and accounts of the County Auditor, which covers the period from June 1, 1884, to June 30, 1895, inclusive. The Auditor's books show a complete and full record of the county's business. Our investigation of the office has been very full and exhaustive, embracing the checking of all the accounts and books throughout the various courses, resulting as follows: All receipts of money and all disbursements may be performed only upon the authority of the Auditor, and the office of Auditor and Treasurer are a complete check upon each other counts of the County Auditor, which are a complete check upon each other in all matters pertaining to the revenue of the county. Only in the settlement with the State is the Treasurer independent of the Auditor. This he does through the State comptroller direct.

The sources of authority upon which the Auditor is empowered to issue warrants upon the Treasurer are as follows: First—For the salaries of officers. Second—Warrants audited by the Board of Supervisors. Third—Upon requisition of the County Superintendent of Schools. Fourth—Upon the order of a judge of the Superior Court, or magistrate for reporter's services. Fifth—In payment of county or school bonds, or interest thereon. Sixth—In payment of orders drawn by the law library officials.

Our examination covers all these departments.

The total amount of disbursement by the Board of Supervisors was a The total amount of disastenents by the Board of Supervisors was as follows: For June, 1894, $45,342.86, and for the year commencing June 1, 1894, and ending June 30, 1895, the amount was $505,871.38. On July 1, 1894, the balances are of long standing, and we would recommend that they be transferred to other funds and sold by the county, if the same can be done-in a legal way.

We find that in the months of June and August, 1894, protested warrants were paid aggregating $1112.42. These warrants drew interest from the year 1883, the interest on same being $650.66, which sum of interest was paid on these warrants by the county. This was caused by the failure of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company to pay its taxes in the years when these warrants were drawn, thereby causing xlack of money in these funds for the payments of these warrants at the proper time.

The interest and sinking fund of 1882 shows a large balance, some $13,000 in June, 1895, which is not disbursed on account of legal questions regarding these back taxes of the railroad company.

The Auditor's books show that a

The Auditor's books show that debit balance of E. E. Hewitt, de ceased, ex-County Tax Collector amounting to $402.09, remains unset tled.

In the course of our examination we find some errors and discrepancies, such as would naturally occur in any set of books, all of which have been properly adjusted.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE.

or books, all of which have been properly adjusted.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE.

There was no evidence of any examination having been made in this office subsequent to December, 1893. Our examination covers the time from December 1, 1893, to October 1, 1895. We find the fee-book and register are well kept, with the exception of three slight errors which have since been corrected. It was impossible properly to check to entries of expenditures with the receipts taken therefor, as such receipts were filed with those referring to State business, and those covering Sheriff's sales, etc.

It is recommended that vouchers be preserved for all expenditures, and that they be so arranged that the payments entered on the various books can be checked up, each book by ft-self; that machine-numbered receipts be given for all moneys taken in, and the stubs kept, separate books being used for the amounts received in county, receivers' and State mattrs.

It is recommended that a cash-book be kept in connection with the present ledger accounts with insolvents, in order that a better check be had on the funds handled in those cases. We find that there is unclaimed in the hands of ex-Sheriff J. C. Cline the sum of $50, pald to him by-various parties in small amounts, being an excess pald for the expense and recording of certain documents over and above the actual cost; we find, also, that under similar circumstances there is in the hands of the present Sheriff, Mr. Burr, the sum of $29.95. We suggest that this money be refunded to the parties having paid it, or upon failure to find such parties, be turned ever to the County Treasurer.

A list of the parties entitled to these moneys has been placed in the hands of the District Attorney.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY. We find, however, such an increase of business for the past year coming under the charge of this office, that it requires the services of more deputies than the law contemplates, and we are informed that the force is unable to attend to all the matters brought before them, and it is frequently necessary to employ outside attorneys to conduct cases requiring immediate attention. We find quite a number of overcharges have been paid, through oversight or neglect in using due care in the examination of the accounts required by law to be brought before this office for indorsement. Therefore, we recommend that greater care should be taken before passing on such accounts. We find, however, such an increase of

RECORDER'S OFFICE. Finding no evidence where a prior ex-amination ended, we arbitrarily fixed he time of our investigation from July the time of our investigation from July 1, 1894, to July 1, 1895. We report that the accounts, with the exception of a few slight and unimportant errors, were found to be correct. That the system and management of the office is good. Upon examination of records in the office we believe that the parties who are required by law to furnish certificates of births, deaths and marriages are derelict in their duty, and we would suggest that the District Attorney take such steps as are necessary to compel a strict compliance with the law.

LAW LIBRARY.

In our investigation covering a period between December 1, 1893, and Decem ber 1, 1895, we find that through an er ber 1, 1895, we find that through an er-ror in bookkeeping there was due the county from the librarian the sum of $14.21, which has since been paid. The examination was made more difficult on account of the imperfect method of bookkeeping. We suggest that an im-provement might be made in this re-

SURVEYOR.

This office handles no county funds, o there were no books of receipts and expenditures to examine. We find a great increase in expenses in the last three months, caused mainly in the making of new maps for the Assessor's three months, caused mainly in the making of new maps for the Assessor's office. At present this charge is entered against the salary account, the proper proportion of which, at the end of six months, is to be transferred, as expenses of the Assessor's office. These maps are quite expensive, the paper alone costing $800 for 4.000 sheets, and the labor thereon is estimated to cost $25,000 to $30,000 for the two years 1895-96. The maps and blanks are made to run for four years, and by interleaving with similar blanks at times can be used for succeeding years. The present system of maps (having been in use since 1887) are badly defaced, many changes have been made in subdividing property,—to such an extent that errors have occurred in assessing sufficient, we believe, to make up largely for the cost of the new maps. We find the total salary and expenses, not including cost of maps, to be: July to December, 1894, $2,221.79; January to June, 1895, $2,059.78.

CORONER'S OFFICE.

for the year commencing June 1, 1394, and ending June 30, 1895, the amount was $505,871.38. On July 1, 1894, the Auditor's books showed there was on hand a balance of $479,666.41, and relegits up to June 30, 1895, aggregated $1,559,62.86; disbursements during the same time amounted to $1,529,002.96. leaving a balance on hand July 1, 1895, of $501,527.31. On June 30, 1895, there were outstanding warrants from the different funds amounting to $5461.67. This sum added to the Auditor's balance of the same date of $501,527.31 gives the sum of $506,983.88, which agrees exactly with the Treasurer's balance of that date.

The following will show some of the disbursements of the county funds: We find it costs over $71,000 to collect the revenue for the year. The Department of Justice cost $149,471.61. For education there was expended the sum of $405,688.96; for charity over $81,000; for roads $70,370.7.

We find a balance in the treasury known as the Estate of Deceased Permonth. This law appears to have been overlooked until recently. This caused an overpayment in the case of Mr. Summer's reporter at the sum of $150 per roads $70,370.7.

We find a balance by the treate of the Corner should be in the Courthouse, for convenience, and more estated that the property owned by the bonded-indebtedness amounting to $193,500, the maturity of the latest bond the bonded-indebtedness amounting to $193,500, the maturity of the latest bond the bonded-indebtedness amounting to $193,500, the maturity of the latest bond and belong the year. The former's and with the State Loan and Trank and with the Sta ber 1, 1895, the sum of $8331.60, or an average of $555.44 per month. The office of Coroner Cost in 1893, $4437.20, or an average of $368.93 per month, an increase in two years of $186.51 per month. We are convinced from our examination that these charges are by far in excess of what seems necessary for the protection of the public interests; that the Coroner is taking advantage of the law by holding inquests when there is no evidence of suspicion of crime or criminal intention. We would recommend that the Board of Supervisors in future be more careful in passing upon the claims of this office. It seems to us that legislation looking toward fixing the salary of Coroner in counties of the second-class would be desirable. WHAT THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY

The filing of the report of the grand The filing of the report of the grand fury was productive of some little comment about the Courthouse among the various offices which were mentioned in the document filed by that inquisitorial bedy. Dist.-Atty. Donnell was somewhat amused at the reference made to his department, and in refutation of the statement that outside counsel had been employed in cases to assist the prosecution, stated that it was wholly without foundation. Maj. Donneil says, on the contrary, that not a dollar has been paid out of the county treasury for the employment of private counsel in any case in which the people or the county has been as torney's office has, during the past year, handled all of the business of the office, and the business has increased by at and the business has increased by at least a third during the past four years. Maj. Donnell also stated that the other assertion, that claims had been allowed in which there had been edly bore in mind are a number which were approved by the former adminis-tration, and which have come up this year for investigation.

AT THE PLAYHOUSES.

LOS ANGELES THEATER. Enthusiasm, applause, encores, cheers, laugh-ter, applause and more encores—"In Old Kentucky" received that sort of a reception last evening from the magnificent audience that packed the seats, aisles and entrance ways of the showhouse to overflowing. And not alone the "gallery gods" thundered their approval of the quick, stirring scenes, the rush of horses, the spirited life of the score of plantation darkies, who fairly made the scenery quiver with their tremendous antics, but the kid-gloved occupants of the lower portion of the house testified as well to the hold that a strong, virile play, well written, well acted and well staged has on the sterage auditor.

acted and well staged has on the average auditor.

"In Old Kentucky" is all of that. Without uncomfortable jolts, the hearer is transplanted to the land where bluegrass and whisky, charming girls and gallant colonels, fast horses, negro menials and every accompaniment of ideal Kentucky existence, mixed in and out with a delicious love story, a thrilling horse-race, a villainous intrigue and, to crown all, a perfectly satisfactory denoument.

orown all, a perfectly satisfactory denoument.

There's color and life "In Old Kentucky," and the sort of people in the cast that are all too scarce in much thore pretentious organizations. Launa Burt as Madge Brierly, "the flower of the mountain," an uncultured miss with a boyish voice, a neat swagger and a knack at doing the right thing at the right time and place, easily took the center of the stage—and held it. Equal to every demand made upon her is Miss Burt, and not once does she fall to measure up to the possibilities of her lines and situations. The audience was with her last evening and laughed and cried and held its breath and cheered her to the echo as she moved through the play, a rustic queen alike in ragged skirt or jockey's uniform.

There is not a weak spot in the cast, and little is left to be destred in any role. H. B. Bradley assumed the part of the traditional "kunnel" who dotes on the seductive mint julep, the fragrant Havana and the fast horse, and his portrayal of the character was injimitable. As Neb. a negro servant.

grant Havana and the fast norse, and his portrayal of the character was in-imitable. As Neb. a negro servant, who dates from "befoh de wah," John H. Mack gives an impersonation that is commendable in the highest degree. Pierce Kingsley, a young moonshiner, Paul Scott the villain, and Halph Stuart, a "worthy son of old Kentucky," sustain their respective roles with marked ability.

But the "meat" of the play, or the entertainment, is not in the cast of characters. The pickaninny "Whang-doodle Band," the only original Whing-doodles, with their everlasting antics. their stirring martial music and their dancing that moves a man's pulse to ninety or thereabouts as he watches it and listens to as he watches it and listens to it—the colored youngsters were the performers that scooped in the lion's share of the applause last evening, and they worked to earn it. Without them "In Old Kentucky" would lose the major portion of its charm. With them it is a bright spot in the endless procession of theatrical attractions. The play is well staged, and the mechanical effects introduced add to the realism of the production. A sure-enough horse-race is not the least novelty found in the performance. Brimful of taking features is "In Old Kentucky," and the reception accorded it last evening will doubtless continue through the week.

The Prussian Diet at Work.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—The Prussian Diet was opened at noon today. The speedh from the throne was devoted to domestic affairs. It is estimated that the budget of 1896 will show a smaller deficit than that of 1895, owing to the increased receipts due to improving trade. Bills were announced for extending the railroads, for improving the position of school teachers, to extend the establishment of Chambers of Commerce. The government will employ every means to remedy the condition of the husbandry and intends to propose furnishing financial assistance to those shown to be in need, to establish co-operative graneries and to legislate regarding the tenure of leasehold land.
